BEVERLY HILL, Cal.,
March 29.—My good friend, Mr.
Brisbane, this morning told why you should winter either in Florida, California,
Texas or Mississippi.
I go even further than Arthur. I recommend the same places, with the addition of Mexico City and Honolulu,

PA NEW OBSERVES

Patches of snow can be seen everywhere in the outskirts of the city.

The Kegair air-port, on the New Wilmington road, looks quite deserted, this cold weather, but it won't be long until airplanes begin buzzing around, again.

Plowing activities of Lawrence county farmers has been temporarily stopped, by the cold weather. Highways are quite deserted now, too.

Country school children had a little snow balling, yesterday, but they had to use the precious snow sparingly, there not being a very good supply.
There was enough for several good shots, though.

Standing in among a clump of

Quite a number of cars had chains

Senator Grundy To Stage Fight Despite Lewis

Lewis' Withdrawal From Gubernatorial Race Will

Ambition

PLANS TO INJECT PUNCH IN CAMPAIGN

Grundy Is Urged By His Friends To Stay In Race
For Senatorship

By FRED K. McILVAINE

HARRISBURG, March 29.—Senator
Joseph R. Grundy, "the fighting Quaker" of Pennsylvania, will inject the punch into the Republican May primary which has made him famous in Keystone state affairs and in national affairs at Washington.

The senator's carefully nurtured political force in Pennsylvania seemed to crumble about him in the forepart of the week and his political enemies had started on the broad grin which they hoped would grow into a roar of delight that they had finally placed "Uncle Joe" where they wanted him.

To Stay In Race.

With Samuel S. Lewis of York withdrawing from the gubernatorial race on the Grundy ticket and Senator Grundy himself displeased if not disgusted after the Pittsburgh conference, it seemed that Grundy's enemies had cause for celebration.

The foes who best knew Grundy, however, withheld their celebration would have withheld it until after Monday, the last day for filing nomination petitions—for the "fighting Quaker" had not won his sobriquet by withdrawing from any fight.

Yesterday, encouraged by telegram, telephone, personal and letter appeals to stay in the race, Senator Grundy made known his decision—he would stay in the fight and become a candidate for election to furnish the term in the senate to which he was appointed when that body finally decided that William S. Vare, Philadelphia political leader, had spent too much money in garnishing the votes which gave him the election.

Will Keep Pledge.

"Uncle Joe" announced that he would keep his pledge to run for re-election as he had promised he would when appointed by Governor Fisher to the senate. That is all the he announced, leaving as usual, plenty of room for widespread conjecture, guess-

COURT ISSUES ORDER SENDING DONNIE BACK TO WHEELING, W. VA.

Donnie Schroeder, four and a half year old son of Irene Schroeder is going back to West Virginia. After being in the custody of Probation Officer Jack Dunlap since January 1st, Donnie is to be returned, not to his grandfather or his aunts, but to G.
B. Pelby, probation officer of Wheeling, West Virginia.

In an order handed down this morning by Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, Mr. Dunlap is directed to turn Donnie over to Mr. Pelby, who has been in communication with Mr.
Dunlap concerning the lad's disposition and this will be done as soon as Mr. Pelby comes to take him.

Only a baby, Donnie was the starting point of a chase that led officers to Phoenix, Arizona, that caused two of the most sensational murder trials in the country, and has already been responsible for a death penalty verdict for his mother Irene Schroeder.

His childish statement that "my mamma shot two cops," was the first definite information the authorities had that Irene Schroeder was the murderess of Corporal Brady Paul and in the train of that childish statement came a man hunt that captured the attention of the world.

Judge Hildebrand feels that the little boy would be in better hands if he placed him in the custody of the probation officer of Wheeling and so directed Mr. Dunlap to do.

Opposition For Stimson's Plan Growing Steadily

Senate Appears Ready To De-

That Americans May Make At Lon-

EUROPEANS ARE SUPPORTING PACT

Ranking Senators Denounce Stimson's Proposal In Heated Interviews

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Senatorial furor over Secretary of State Stimson's expressed willingness to put the United States into some form of a political consultative pact at the London naval conference widened and spread today.

The opposition in the Senate to any form of political pact at London has now reached such proportions that if Secretary Stimson heeds the warnings that have been cabled him
the whole project may die a-borning.
Long messages have been transmitted to Stimson and other members of the American delegation in the past few days warning other members of the American delegation in the past few days warning that certain Senate rejection awaits any treaty of political character.

Stimson's efforts to allay senatorial fears by announcing that "negative in character" have not been successful. Apparently the more announcements that are made in London the more confused Senate leaders become as to just what is being planned, and the more widespread becomes the opposition.

Senator Swanson (D) of Virginia, the ranking Democrat on the foreign relations committee, joined with Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, and Senator George (D) of Georgia, today in criticism of Stimson's course in London.

"Over here," said Swanson, "it is contended that it (a consultative pact) means nothing, that the United States assumes no obligation under such a pact."

European Favor Pact

"In Europe it is contended that such a pact would be very effective in furnishing security to France and Italy, and consequently they could afford to reduce their naval strength."
"Both contentions cannot be right."
"If it means nothing, as claimed in America, it is difficult to understand why European powers are willing to accept it as a guarantee of security.
If it means something, as European nations believe, it involves the Uni-

(BULLETIN 2 P. M.)

When court reconvened this afternoon, Dague's father was on the stand and testified briefly, then Mrs. Theresa Dague, wife of the defendant was called to the stand. The commonwealth asked for a conference at the bar on the purpose. The result was that Mrs. Dague only answered a few brief questions, stating that she was Dague's wife, had two children and that he left her in April 1929.

Defense then rested its case, shortly before 2 P. M.

His defense shattered and scattered, his evasiveness blasted away by the merciless shelling of Special Counsel
Charles J. Margiotti, W.
Glenn Dague, the bandit buddy of Irene Schroeder has sought the last refuge of a criminal, a woman's skirts.

Scurrying to cover like a rat under a barn plank, Dague the imperturbable, Dague the suave, the lad who was going to protect Irene, who wanted to "go to the chair if she did," has at last come out in his true colors and has fled for the security of the Trigger Blonde's ample skirts. Court room number one was crowded for the session.

It was Irene who suggested robbing the Butler store, it was Irene who wanted to go west, it was Irene who suggested stealing the Horton car, it was Irene who wanted to dress in men's clothes, it was Irene who directed the banditry in which they engaged, and bravely Dague testified to this this morning. Only the objection of Margiotti stopped Dague from an obvious answer when defense counsel asked him why he

Answers Getting Erratic

The urgency of Friday afternoon has fled the insurance salesman, his carefully prepared answers have given way to an uneasiness, his face is flushed, he glances covertly towards his counsel table, and at the noon recess the whiplash questioning of Margiotti had reduced Dague to a fear infested quailing criminal, seeking for shelter wherever he could find it, and the nearest place was back of Irene's skirts.

From his testimony today it would appear that all of his devilment, all of his criminality, his robbing, his shooting, his attacks upon policemen were originated and directed by the Trigger Blonde, the 21 year old Wheeling waitress for whom Dague deserted his wife and family, when Irene was scarcely eighteen years of age.

Dague's cross examination will continue this afternoon and the question which was overruled this morning

HOOVER HOPES FOR SOME AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Hoover moved today to quell reports that he is at odds with Secretary of State Stimson and the other American delegates at the London naval conference over Stimson's announced willingness to put the United States into a political consultative pact.

These reports have gained such wide currency that they have been embarrassing to Mr. Hoover, to the State Department, and to an even greater degree to the American delegation in London.

No Differences

"Consequently, the President summoned Acting Secretary of State Colton to the White House this morning and after a conference Colton returned to the Department and issued this statement:

"There are no differences of view between the President and our delegation in London. The delegation has always had, and now has, unqualified support and authority."

The delegation is in London patiently to explore every suggestion made and every possibility that leads to the great purpose of the conference—that is, a reduction and limitation of naval armament and preservation of the peace of the world.
"It is the high hope that a plan for so doing can be evolved which will

Missing Yacht Safely Docked

Yacht With 40 Aboard Was 12 Hours Overdue
When Docked

(BULLETIN)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The yacht Gulmar, with 40 University of Michigan students aboard, missing throughout the night in a heavy fog in San Francisco bay, docked here today.

News of the safety of the vessel and all of its passengers was flashed to the anxious relatives and friends in Berkeley who had established headquarters at the First Presbyterian church there to await word from the missing vessel.

The yacht was 12 hours overdue
when it managed to dock here.

Fears had been entertained that the small pleasure craft might have encountered the fate of two larger ships met in the dense fog.

The big Japanese freighter Rhine
Maru, making its way up the coast from Los Angeles, crashed on the Rocky coast off Point Sur, 100 miles south of San Francisco. Her crew with the exception of two members who remained aboard, was rescued by the steamer Humboldt.

The lumber steamer Claremont, enroute to Seattle from San Francisco, crashed on the northern shore of the Golden Gate when she encountered the same dense fog. Although in a sinking condition the Claremont turned her ship back and beached her on the sandy shore well within the bay.

an estimated loss of $30,000 today when fire swept through an entire business block here.

Mrs. Theodore Doyle and her baby

the mother and child to safety.

One fireman was injured when a stairway collapsed.

The fire started in the rear of the Central Fruit Market and spread rapidly to an adjoining building occupied by the Central Building and

Bar Association Banquet Is Held On Friday Night

Field Club Is Scene Of Turkey Dinner, Literary Features And Music

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA ENLIVENES OCCASION

Annual banquet of the Lawrence County Bar Association, held at the New Castle Field club last night, was enlivened by the New Castle high school orchestra, under the direction of Joe F. Replogle. Tables were artistically decorated, and the menu, which was in the form of a turkey dinner was all that could be desired. Hon. J. Norman Martin acted as toastmaster, introducing the different speakers in a happy manner. Among the hits of the evening was a humorous address by Attorney S. L. McCracken. Mr. McCracken's subject was "Complaints," and was sort of a burlesque on the methods employed in investigating crimes and in bringing criminals to justice.

Attorney Charles R. Davis, president of the Lawrence County Bar Association, gave a brief synopsis of the work of the organization.

Attorney Charles A. Wallace spoke on "My Conception of a Lawyer" in which he dealt with the ethics of the profession in the conduct of legal business and the relations of attorneys with clients.

Attorney Harry A. Cotton of Fayette county, vice president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, gave an outline of the aims of the association.

"Should the Action of Detention be Abolished" was the rather weighty subject discussed by Hon. William Levis, mayor of Beaver Falls.

Remarks were also made by District Attorney John Powers, Sheriff Frank Johnston and others.

ed States in political obligations in Europe which would be honorably complied to discharge.

"If it means nothing, as contended in America, it is a snare and a delusion. Giving fancied security to European powers that the United States has no intention of discharging. Great nations in their dealings with other nations should be frank and honorable and should not create false hopes."

Senator Swanson's opposition is of more than passing significance, for he is an old League of Nations Democrat of the Wilsonian era.

Remains Unexplained

Meanwhile the very evident difference of opinion between the White House view and the Stimson announcement remains unexplained. At the very moment Secretary Stimson was announcing the American delegation's willingness to enter a consultative pact Washington was being apprised that President Hoover was staunchly opposed to any such undertaking.

Nothing has emanated from the White House since the Stimson announcement. The embarrassment and confusion between the Washington view and the London view, however, has been painfully apparent.

In these circumstances it was rumored today that fresh instructions had been sent to the American delegation to drop all negotiations for a political pact of any character, to negotiate a five-power naval reduction treaty if possible, or, if that is not possible without a consultative pact, to attempt a three-power agreement and bring the conference to a speedy conclusion.

There was no confirmation of these rumors. Likewise no denial. The White House and State Department are preserving an embarrassed silence.

pasted clippings from newspapers, telling of the victories of the Westminster college football and basketball teams, during the past season.

The highway department is opening drains and ditches along the highway, this side of New Wilmington.

The backbone of the recent wintry spell which has gripped the district for several days, seems to have been broken and the bright sunshine this morning, betokened higher temperatures.

The Lehigh Portland Cement plant is resuming operations in full, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is continuing improvements at the New Castle Junction, the state is awarding the contract for seven miles of highway between Ellwood City and Portersville, New Castle is asking for bids for about $75,000 worth of repaving work. All indications are that business conditions will steadily improve in this district as spring and summer arrive. There is every reason for manifestation of real optimism.

Pa. News joins with hundreds of others in expressing appreciation of the honor that has been shown D. S. Pyle in the state at large. Mr. Pyle has been elected a director of the Senate Chamber of Commerce, an honor that it well deserved, and a position that he will capably fill.

With the probability of a fine spring-like day for auto touring on Sunday, the roads will probably be blocked with traffic. Safety first should be the watch word of every driver on the roads.

The boys that operate the refreshments stand along the highways are convinced that spring and summer can't be far away. Most of these stands are already opened up for the season.

Indoor athletic circus at the Y last night proved a rather entertaining feature for the parents of the boys who belong to the Y, and also for others whose boys do not belong.

City Council is anxious to have the state program for the improvement of three local thoroughfares start as early as possible. Bids are being asked and they will be read April 11. The contractor who secures the job it is said will be requested to employ as much local labor as possible and it is said that this phase is agreeable to contractors who will place bids.

As soon as the roads in the rural districts are in better condition, Chauncey Davis, sanitary policeman who also acts as a food inspector, will inspect dairies which furnish milk to New Castle consumers. A few weeks ago city council purchased a used coupe which has been put in excellent condition. This will provide the inspector with means of transportation to and from dairies.

The municipal parking ground near Central fire station is being used according to Councilman Clayton Reeves. The plot was fixed up during a former administration and a light installed. It can be reached by travelling south on South Jefferson street. No doubt it will become a mecca for motorists during the summer months. Parking is free. The ground is owned by the city.

Harnessing the winter sunshine for heat to aid in cutting fuel bills is being attempted.

THE TOWN DOCTOR

"DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

HOW ABOUT THE STORES IN NEW CASTLE

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of a special group of Town Doctor articles in which is set forth those things that an industry, manufacturer or individual interested in a community, desires to know before taking definite action; information desired other than, and in addition to, the regular technical data required.]

In addition to asking the attitude taken toward the community by the people who live there, manufacturers and others interested in the community usually, if not always, ask:

"What kind of stores are in this town?"

What they really mean by the question is this: "Is the answer merely a statement made by the merchants, or is it the opinion of the people?" In other words, is the answer a biased one, or is it wholly true?

It is natural that the business organizations, made up in most part of merchants, would claim that the stores are "good," and they might be absolutely right; but asking merchants this question is like asking a boy's mother if her son is a bright boy or a stupid one.

There are two sure ways of finding out what kind of stores a community has. One is to get the frank and honest opinion of the people; the other to ascertain how much retail trade goes out of town or is spent with mail order houses.

I have repeatedly said that the money you earn is your money and you have a perfect right to spend it where you please, with whom you please and for what you please. BUT if the people of a community make a practice of buying too large a percentage of merchandise out of town, or if they have a reputation for doing that, it shows one of two things: Either the stores are below standard; or the people who make up the community are not loyal, community-minded people. And one is as bad as the other, so far as industry and other interested parties are concerned.

Anybody, any organization or any business, interested in New Castle will sooner or later ask about your stores; and they want the answer to be fact, not a fancy. They want to know what YOU think about them, for YOU and the other people who live and work in the community are the ones who really are in a position to know. If the question cannot be answered or is not answered; and if some other town does answer; that other town has the advantage, and that advantage may be just enough to keep New Castle from being selected for a new factory, new home owners, or any of a dozen things for which people consider towns.

Through The News and Lions Club the answering of this important question is made possible. All YOU have to do is to send your answers to the following questions to me and I will see that inquiring "customers" of New Castle are given the information. I will do that, if YOU will do YOUR part. Here are the questions:

1. Are the stores in New Castle excellent, good, fair or poor?
2. What would you suggest to make them what you would like to have them?
3. Do you buy things out of town? If so why?

Answer these three questions honestly, frankly—just as you really FEEL about it, and you will not be doing NEW Castle a good turn but actually doing something for yourself and for the good of your own pocket book.

This is another chance for you to show whether you are really interested and "for" New Castle; if you are willing to "Help Build" New Castle. You cannot expect New Castle to become a bigger, better, more attractive place if you refuse to do what you can to make it so, and you CAN do this—it is something you can do and can AFFORD to do.

Of course you do not have to do it; but if you don't or won't do what you can, don't kick if things are not the way you would like to have them; and don't complain that you don't make more money than you're making now.

You don't have to write a fancy article when answering these questions. Just use your own words, write in pencil if you like, and you do not have to sign your name if you do not care to. If you don't sign your name, state whether the questions are answered by a man or woman, and give your occupation.

Don't put this off—you are liable to forget about it if you do, and it is too important to take the chance of doing that. Just address your letter to the Town Doctor, 332 So. Michigan avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

One Youth Is Held For Juvenile Court

Three youths apprehended in connection with the turning in of false alarms from box 214 on March 26 and 27, were before Mayor William H. Gillespie today. In the course of the inquiry into the case, it developed that but one of the three was actually involved and this youth was turned over to the juvenile authorities, the other two were discharged.

WIFE CALLS POLICE; THEY ARREST HER

This morning Katie Rupko, 936 North Liberty street, called the police, stating that her husband was causing trouble and abusing her. Officers Longstreth and Reynolds answered the call and on their arrival at the Rupko home found that friend husband was very peaceable and that Mrs. Rupko was apparently causing the trouble.

She was taken into custody by the officers and is being held at the city police station pending the final adjustment of the case.

Greece also had difficulty in enforcing her laws. Else why was that old fellow so eager to find an honest man.

Stringent Order Being Delivered

Council Orders Removal Of Facilities That Might Delay Repaving

Henry Dysart, inspector, city legal department, today served notices on public utility companies of the city's proposal to repave Croton avenue, Grant street and Butler avenue. The notices were ordered by city council. The notices direct that the utilities remove from the path of the improvement, pipes, wires, tracks or other facilities in the streets. The notices are delivered so that there can be no interference with the contractor.

The notice stipulates that if there is any occasion to open the street or avenues that this be done now so that the work can be completed before April 11, when the bids for the repaving will be opened.

According to the notice the city will prohibit excavation in any of the improved thoroughfares for the next 10 years.

Lackawanna County Slayer Will Be Put To Death On Monday

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 29.—After reviewing all the papers in the case, Governor John S. Fisher today refused to interfere in the execution of Ralph R. Sloat, Lackawanna County murderer, who will be electrocuted Monday.

Counsel for Sloat who argued his case before the state board of pardons made a final appeal to the governor yesterday, asking that he issue a respite.

Sloat was convicted of the murder of John Lawry, Scranton taxicab driver. After twice continuing the case to give it further study, the board of pardons refused to sanction commutation of the death sentence.

meet with the approval of the American people and will be consonant with our traditional policies and ideals."

Cotton Is Silent

Cotton would add nothing to the bare statement. Nor would he discuss the reasons for its issuance, its intent or its implications. He simply said that it spoke for itself.

All mention of a consultative pact which Stimson announced in London on Tuesday the American delegates were ready to consider, while Washington was being given to understand that President Hoover was opposed to it—was carefully avoided in the statement.

It was evidently framed, however, to allay senatorial restlessness over the Stimson announcement that the delegation was willing to consider a consultative pact. The significance of the closing phrase about "our traditional policies and ideals" was marked.

Senatorial critics of the course of the American delegation have stressed the point that one of "our traditional policies and ideals" has been to remain out of European political pacts of whatever character.

points are expected to be made by this time, and most of the preparations completed for the gigantic task.

Embodies Much Work

The work of taking the census this time embodies considerable more work than ever before, because of the fact that a vast amount of information is to be gathered on business, employment conditions, and various other matters in which the nation at large is interested in, besides the counting of noses to determine the exact population of the country.

This work is to be completed as soon as possible and the task in the local census district will be cleaned up in a month, it is expected.

Attorney Brown has been considerably hampered in completing the list of enumerators here because of a

Only this much was certain today Grundy is in the race.

F. A. 1926 CLUB ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS

Mrs. R. C. Melvin of Glenmore boulevard charmingly entertained the F. A. 1926 club in her home Friday evening with Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Dickey, and the husbands of the members as special guests.

Bridge featured the social hours, four tables being in play. Those winning prizes for honors included Mrs. Earl Wymer, Mrs. C. J. Johnston, A. J. Slaver and Roy McMillen. At a seasonable hour, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess having as her aide Mrs. A. J. Slaver. The tables were beautifully decorated in pastel shades in keeping with the approaching Easter season, with unique favors of the same at each guest place.

At 1 o'clock luncheon will be featured Wednesday, April 2 when the club associates will meet with Mrs. H. L. Dean as hostess.

L. L. Club

The L. L. associates were delightfully entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Helen Walker on the Pittsburgh road when they gathered for their regular meeting.

A short business session was held when Mrs. H. Sharp was taken in as a new member. Cards were later enjoyed with three tables in play. Mrs. Elsie Dickey and Mrs. Lurilla McCormick were awarded the prizes for honors, first and second respectively.

At a selected hour, the hostess served a dainty lunch assisted by Mrs. Lurilla McCormick and Mrs. James Hughes, the latter who was also a special guest.

The April meeting will be held with Mrs. Ethel Boyd on County Line street.

Section Meets

Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Newell, East Washington street for their regular meeting. During the evening officers were elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. J. R. Bruce was chosen president, Mrs. Jas. Shaw, vice president, Anne Mehard, treasurer and Clara Zehner, press reporter.

April 10 the section will meet with Mrs. James Shaw, 1102 East Washington street.

HAPPY HOUR CLUB MEETING ENJOYED

Mrs. Claude Allerton proved a delightful hostess when associates of the Happy Hour Club gathered at her home on East Street Friday evening for their regular meeting. A beautiful scene greeted the eyes of the guests when they entered, finding the home beautifully decorated with bright red tulips and ferns presenting a most pretty background.

A period of games was enjoyed causing much merriment among the guests, later followed by a delectable lunch served in the dining room at a table attractively set corresponding with the decorations of the home with tall tapers in crystal holders being used as ornaments. Covers were laid for 16 guests.

In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. Scott McCaslin on East Washington street for their regular meeting.

STAR LORE

INTRODUCING VARIABLE STARS
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

A variable star is one that changes in brightness. It is only as one comes to take notice of individual stars that the change in brightness of any of them is discovered. In June, 1918, a star flared up in the constellation Aquila (the Eagle) that attracted great attention among naked-eye observers. It became so brilliant that anyone accustomed to noticing the heavens could not fail to have his attention attracted to it. This particular star is normally very faint, but suddenly it became very bright. Eighteen days later it faded to a third magnitude star. It is known as Nova Aquilae.

PENNSYLVANIA BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN 1929

PRELIMINARY figures from Harrisburg indicate that Pennsylvania recorded the lowest death rate in history last year and the second lowest birth rate. The difference between the two, sometimes called the vital increment, which establishes the net gain in population, was also lower than in previous comparisons. It amounted to 7.3 persons per thousand inhabitants. The Bureau of Vital Statistics estimates that, if the present rate of shrinkage continues, the surplus of births over deaths will reach zero by 1960. Then the population of Pennsylvania would become stationary, with no replenishment in excess of diminution.

Probably nobody seriously believes the next generation will approach the threshold of the Malthusian doom for this civilization. The per capita consumption of the world food supply bears a more favorable relation to a prolific race than previously, though the population curve does show a tendency to conform to the demands of new social conditions which adversely affect the upward trend. But the immediate problem consists in cutting down the death hazard. Pennsylvania last year sacrificed 2050 lives to the automobile Moloch. This is a considerable increase over 1928, as tragic as it is preventable.

THE WAR DEBTS

Long dead is the war debt issue. The debtor nations are resigned to repayment and Uncle Sam, the lender, has made settlement as easy and as remote from usury as possible. But even at this late date it is of interest to Americans to listen in on Sir Esme Howard, retiring ambassador to the United States, as he talks on war debts to his own countrymen at a 100 per cent British dinner in London. His words:

"When I was asked in the United States how I felt about the debt settlement, I always replied that, considering what our war credits from the United States meant to us at the time and that without them we could not have carried on the war and must almost inevitably have suffered defeat, with all that it would have entailed, I myself, held that, however difficult it was to bear, the debt was cheap at the price. I considered that the last thing an Englishman who was proud of his country and of meeting his obligations should do was to complain of it or even hit at revision."

These are the sentiments of the vast majority of American people, who would have had to repay the debts if the Allied borrowers had not. Settlement by easy payments was not only the most practical thing to do but also the only dignified and straight-forward and fair thing and the best calculated to win for the debtor nations and respect and sympathy of America.

It is also refreshingly novel to hear from the lips of an European that the United States had some part in the winning of the war. We had almost come to the conclusion, under the spell of European philippics, that our help was tolerated and not prayed for.

LYNCHINGS DECREASE

Lynch law has been responsible for many black marks upon the fair escutcheon of American civilization. While some parts of the country public opinion has condemned lynchings, the federal government has long sought to impeach "Judge, Lynch" and public opinion, nationally, is determined to stamp out this vicious mob violence and lawlessness.

There are still too many lynchings, but the number is decreasing at a rate that brings satisfaction to every thoughtful person and to the Negro race particularly. Last year the rate was .08 per million of population, compared with a rate of 2.9 in 1894. The were 10 lynchings last year, three whites and seven Negroes; whereas in 1892 the number of these outrages was 255.

Tuskegee Institute researchers have uncovered the amazing fact that more than 10 per cent of all recorded lynchings were provoked by threatened political exposure, slander, self-defense, wife-beating, voodooism, unpopularity, throwing stones, jilting, drunkenness, enticing servants away, colonizing negroes, robbery, turning state's evidence, gambling, quarreling and suspected offense.

Institute researchers refute the popular notion that virtually all lynchings are provoked by assaults on women. Since 1885 only 20.6 per cent have been attributed to offenses of that nature.

Judging from infrequency courts inflict the death penalty on murders the people who serve on juries must be drawn from different classes of society than the man who takes the law in their own hands. Forty-five years have witnessed 4,287 of these mob murders.

NORMAL BOYS

How many boys, taking them as they go, will refrain from throwing a stone at a toad? Not many. The boyhood temptation is just as great to shoot at birds and to stone squirrels in the park or grove.

The fact is that every boy has an instinctive aspiration to be a hunter, and he is exceptional, not normal, to whom hunting, which involves killing, is naturally abhorrent. Unless trained from infancy to think only of protecting wildlife the normal child will take to the stone and air rifle as naturally as a duck to water and a bird to the air.

It is not at all difficult, however, to give the normal boy an appreciation of animals alive, as distinguished from animals dead—to turn him into a "naturalist" keenly observant and effectively protective.

That is the thing to do with boys, not scold and denounce them as young friends and barbarians when they follow the ways of their ancestry. For an authority on this question one will not turn to adults who never have been boys or have forgotten the time when they were, or who were the exceptions to the rule. Best fitted to teach the boy to love and protect the little wild creatures are the men who know from their own boyhood experience the inherent destructiveness of youth and so know how best to cope with the situation.

The female member of the New York Aquarium staff who, indignant that boys had killed goldfish placed in a park fountain, observed that "normal boys wouldn't do such a thing" betrayed a woeful ignorance of the ways of boyhood.

Where Are the Passengers?
If Old, Please Read.
The Lion Learned Little.
Suggestion for Mr. Boeing.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 29.—At noon Friday officials of the Santa Fe road, gathered in convention, were told by their president, Mr. Storey, who invited prominent citizens to luncheon at El Cortez Hotel, that something is happening to railroad passenger business in the United States.

In 1922 the Santa Fe carried fifteen million passengers. In 1928, the number had dropped to four million, two hundred thousand.

That means a good deal to railroads, to owners of railroad stocks, and to the automobile industry.

Automobiles, privately owned, and public automobile bus lines, have made the change.
And Mr. Storey's figures will change again, soon, when fully developed air travel takes 90 per cent of long distance travel from railroad and motor bus lines.

Do not hurry to sell your Santa Fe or other sound railroad stock, however. Railroad now is really really roaring, not stock jobbing. And better methods, bigger locomotives, longer trains, better yards and a thousand improvements, including especially loyal co-operation by railroad union workers, have more than made up for the drop in passenger travel. Freight is the thing now, and that depends on prosperity.

Years ago, when the late Mr. Ripley was president of the Santa Fe, Mr. Storey, then the road's chief engineer, built the Santa Fe line through the Texas Panhandle, and told Mr. Ripley that it was a good line. Some thought it would not pay. Now it is the chief freight route, and the most profitable part of the Santa Fe's long trackage.

Men and women past 60, read this please.

Dr. Pritchard, head of the Carnegie Foundation and a Santa Fe director, was at the railroad luncheon and told this:

Some years ago, he lunched at the New Willard in Washington with John Cadwallader, a rich man, and Dr. Weir Mitchell, famous physician. The weather was cold, and Dr. Mitchell said to Cadwallader, in his gruff way:

"Cadwallader, how can you be such a fool as to stay in this climate? You are rich, can do what you like. Go to Florida, or Cuba, or California. You are 75 years old and have a cold. Some day, about January, one of your colds will develop into grip, the grip will change into pneumonia and you will change to a better world."

Cadwallader replied:
"I am only 75. You are 85. Why do you stay here?"
Weir Mitchell replied:
"I am so old, the microbes can no longer affect me."

Now comes the moral: In the following January, Cadwallader and Mitchell both developed bad colds and grip and in February both died of pneumonia, in the same week.

Those that can should come out here, or go to Florida, or the Gulf Coast, or down across the water to Free Cuba, and let sunshine lengthen life.

It is only fair to add that it would be hard to find any place better than the California county of San Diego, although Dr. Pritchard, who lives at Santa Barbara, says that is the best place. More than a million not only say, but yell, that Los Angeles is the best place.

And your San Franciscan thoroughly disdainful, says there is no place but Northern California.

The best plan is to see all of the country. Go by boat through the Panama Canal, come back by rail. Or overhaul your little engine, put the family in the car, and start. Good roads, good hotels, good automobile camps everywhere, from ocean to ocean, from Canada to Mexico. See Georgia, Florida, Texas, with all of the world's climates which is a whole nation in itself.

See Louisiana, Mississippi, and when you get to New Orleans, ask Col. Ewing to show you around.
Everywhere there is opportunity, to learn and to gain, especially for him who takes something with him. Take money with you, to get more money. Take information, that you may bring back more information.

The Mayor of Los Angeles, born booster, will help any Los Angeles enterprise. He arranged to welcome home a famous performing lion, belonging to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture organization.
The lion had been everywhere, on a tour of the world lasting seven years.

But the mayor noticed that, on his return, the lion seemed to know no more than when he started. He had taken no information with him, only a taste for meat, as some Americans, on their travels abroad, take only a taste for alcohol.

Read, study your country, its history and its products. Then see it. East, West, North, South and in the middle.

You will be surprised.

In half an hour Mr. Bowler, who has just finished building Lindbergh's new glider, will start three gliders through the air, simultaneously, at La Jolla, a few miles north of here. That must be seen, and this, you will be glad to hear, must be bitten off, at about this point.

This writer can say, of his own knowledge, that for young people to see a glider, is to want to glide. Two girls, sixteen, brought on this (Continued On Page Five)

Report On Federal Offices In South Interests Country

Senatorial Committee Makes Suggestions Which Lead To Debate On Convention Delegates And Their Ethical Standards

The report of the senatorial committee which has been investigating federal patronage conditions in the south and President Hoover's retort to that report has aroused interested comment in the daily press of the country.

"The president is jealous of the good repute of federal officials in the south, both in respect of character and ability," says the PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN, as it explains its understanding of Mr. Hoover's policy as "based on the principle that the national good requires the breaking down of sectionalism in politics, so that the voice of all the states may have due weight in the councils of government." And as to the report of the congressional committee in regard to southern patronage the Bulletin continues: "It is not his way of doing things to wait on congressional fishing committees in order to find what is going on among men holding federal commissions in the south. In his case full information all the time and appropriate action whenever needed may be assumed."

Says the PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM: "It is perfectly natural for the state organization of a party which is honestly in the minority to become hardly more than an organization for the distribution of political pie. It is a condition that arises from the fact that there are as many federal jobs for distribution in a state whether the party of nine-tenths or one-tenth of the people is victorious in the nation as a whole."

The KALAMAZOO GAZETTE considers "It is too much to say that the elimination of patronage evils would win the south to the banner of the Republican party," this paper believing such reforms "would certainly help to elevate Republicanism greatly in Dixie."

Pointing out that "the power to make up the rules in the White House," the BALTIMORE EVENING SUN says: "The White House is slow to act because, while the party may not profit, the administration profits immensely by the existing state of affairs. These 'leaders' in the southern states may not be able to deliver any votes on election day, but they can deliver a nice bunch of delegates in the national convention; and a president must get himself renominated before he can be re-elected. Therefore," continues the Sun, "it is likely that leaders without followers will continue to flourish in the south, to the scandal of the Republican party, to the considerable profit of any Republican president who is a candidate for a second term."

Speaking on this point the PETERSBURG PROGRESS-INDEX declares that "for years it has been the candidate for the Republican nomination to the presidency who corralled the southern delegates who finally won out in the national convention." Many newspapers, however, recognize the courageous stand taken by President Hoover on this question. The NEW YORK WORLD recalls that "Mr. Hoover, announced, soon after his inaugural last year, that the abuse of southern patronage must cease. He has special reasons for wishing to establish his party in good repute in the south," continues the World, "which believes he 'mat' contribute effectively toward this end by putting the influence of his administration behind the recommendations of the senate sub-committee."

The SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS states that, in its opinion, "President Hoover is not the sort of man who can lead by example in the buying and selling of positions. He is not sufficiently politically-minded. He is still more the engineer, the man who wants all things to 'true-up,' and still is not quite enough the practical politician to ignore blissfully a condition which, however strong it may make a political party with the boys, is not good public policy. Can he stop it?" asks the News. "He certainly can," it answers.

The CHARLESTON EVENING POST is a little skeptical as it says: "The administration is still in its virtuous stage. But renomination time will come around, as it has a way of doing, and that will be no time for prosecuting petty bosses who can produce fully guaranteed delegates to the national convention."

In regard to the president's comment on the report of the investigating committee, the MUSKOGEE CHRONICLE says: "The president betrayed his weakness: an over-sensitiveness to anything savoring of criticism, in his rather tart reply to the committee." But this paper supports the chief executive in his statements, saying: "President Hoover spoke an obvious truth when he retorted to the report of the Brookhart committee that the report is 'old stuff.' He has warned the corrupt Republican organization in the southern states that they must either clean house or they will be ignored in the distribution of federal appointments. Consequently the Chronicle considers that almost all of the evidence of corruption there 'refers to a situation before the inauguration of the new policy," and states that "beneficiaries have since been shorn of attachment to the federal pay roll." The comment of the CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL is that "This was only what was to be expected. The findings of the committee of course have been anticipated."

As the BANGOR DAILY COMMERCIAL puts it: "Doubtless the Brookhart committee findings are correct in the main but the investigators have been threshing old straw in which only the chaff remains."

As to federal patronage and the desire of the Republicans to retain and increase the gains in party influence made at the last election, the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE says: "There weren't any political principles involved in the switchover from the Democratic to the Republican column in the south. There was a great deal of bigotry. There was considerable itch for profit and plunder. The sale of federal offices was already making a scandal. Some of the turncoats hoped to make it a bigger one. Mr. Hoover is annoyed by that situation now."

THE BOY.
M heart always warms to a "gang" of boys. Like the Highland Seer, I want to see from whence they came and why they are bound. To me they are something more than a herd of healthy animals, though to be perfectly honest, there are times when I would like to knock a few of their heads together. No doubt they feel the same about me and some of my associates, so that's evened up.

It is a grand sign of the times when the Chief Executive of the American Nation has time to say a few words about the Boy and relation to the body politic. There is no "Boy Problem," except as all humanity is a problem. In some respects I feel sorry for the boy of today and this in spite of the fact that when a boy I many times felt myself terribly abused. The boy of today is not a bad boy. He has no pets and no private room which he may arrange or muss up to suit himself. He seldom receives for Christmas or for his birthday, a box of tools, and as a result he has practically lost the use of his hands and especially the fingers. He never could be a Robinson Crusoe and if wrecked in a desert island, would starve from hunger and go mad from loneliness.

The boy of today does not know how to amuse and entertain himself. He is one of a mass and no longer an individual. He is mass production and machine produced. For this he is not to blame nor are we, all of us are victims of the time in which we live. But there is no necessity to take our troubles lying down and let place of the interests which appealed to us as boys and which no longer exists; we must find others.

And this we have found in the Boy Scouts. For many reasons the Boy Scouts appeal to me. It gives the boy something to think about outside of himself. It trains his mind and body. It removes him from a 100 per cent women influence which our public school system has unfortunately become and which few have the courage to criticize.

The Boy Scout movement is a return to first principles, the taking of the Boy from his home and teaching him the nature of manhood and the traditions of his tribe. And in the past these were taught in such a perfect and lasting manner that few, if any, brought to shame the memory of their ancestors. In closing his address, the President said: "I give you a potent statistic. There are about 1,000,000 Boy Scouts in the United States. There is raw material for 10,000,000 more."

BEGGING A LADY'S PARDON

may be put in another form, "did you say to an ex-Judge E. A. Lohrke in Phoenix, I plugged Paul, Irene thinks she did it, but I know." This was ruled out when Margiotti explained that Mr. Lohrke was not within the jurisdiction. From the questioning it appears that the commonwealth was attempting to establish the fact that Dague had made such a confession to the man named, Lohrke.

Wife To Testify

Mrs. Theresa Dague, age 30, mother of Dague's two children and the wife who he deserted for the blonde wiles of Irene Schroeder will testify this afternoon. Putting back of her the shame and humiliation Dague has caused her, Mrs. Dague will take the stand and tell her story. She is the unfortunate victim of a self confessed moral derelict and while she will testify in her husband's behalf, she does so only because she remembers her marriage vows, and not because she had any part of the crime and immorality that has been a part of Dague's life since last June.

She testified today that he had left his wife and family on April 11, 1929, and had gone to Toledo. Since that time he testified that he had sent them twenty or thirty dollars, in October, but aside from that he had given nothing to their support.

Neither had he written to his wife, he testified, but had written to his children. Asked if he had sent Mrs. Dague to come to New Castle when the trial was on he said that he "had told her if she wanted to come, he would be glad to have her."

From indications this morning, the commonwealth scored heavily against the erstwhile insurance, automobile and washing machine salesman and Dague's uneasiness and discomfort may be increased this afternoon.

The resume of Friday afternoon and this morning's testimony follow.

Afternoon Session
Attorney Thomas W. Dickey opened to the jury. He made no statement of defense, but merely testified they could call Dague.

Q Were you in New Castle on Dec. 26, 1929?

A No.

Q Was Irene Schroeder or Tom Crawford?

A No.

Q When did you leave Wheeling?

A About 9 o'clock.

Q Where did you stop that night?

A In Butler in a hotel.

Q Where did you go that night?

Q Did you register at the hotel?

A Yes, as Cartwright.

Q What time did you get your breakfast?

A About 8:30.

Q Where did you go then?

A Got our car and then looked over the town.

Q Did you look at a car there?

A Don't remember.

Q Did you see the Butler store then?

A No.

Q Who went in first?

A Irene.

Q Where was the car parked?

A On the side street near the store.

Q When did you go in the store?

A After Irene.

Q What happened?

A Irene went in first and asked for apples. I followed her, took my gun from my side, took him to the back room and used his hands. Then Irene went to the cash register, I went through his pockets. We started out the store and an old man came into the store and we did the same thing with him. We took his teeth out so he wouldn't choke and gagged him.

Q Who was in the car when you left?

A A myself, Irene, Don and Tom Crawford.

Q Had you ever been in New Castle or Butler before?

A No.

Q When you got to this scene of the shooting, what happened?

A When I saw the officer I slowed down. Brady Paul asked me for my registration card. I handed him my wallet. He handed it back to me and told him to drop his gun. He backed down the road and I heard a shot from the rear of the car. I didn't fire a shot neither did Irene. Moore was at the rear of the car. I followed him around. Then Tom Crawford fired from the back of the car. Brady Paul kept backing up and I fired a shot at him.

Q Did Brady Paul fire at you?

A Yes, one shot hit me in the hip.

Q Did you fire any more shots?

A No, only one to my knowledge.

Q Did she fire any shots from the running board?

A I don't think she did.

Q Who picked up Moore's gun?

A I did.

Q What calibre gun did you have?

A A 38 calibre special.

Q When did you first see the Horton car?

A When it passed me on the Butler Road.

Q What did you do?

A I blew the horn for them to stop, pulled my gun and ordered Horton to give me his car.

Q You got in the car first?

A Yes, Tom Crawford brought Donnie and the suit case. He and Irene got into the car and we drove off.

Q Where did you go?

A We went through the town and I don't know where all we went.

Q Did you stop at a restaurant in Monaca?

A We didn't eat till that night in Bellaire, Va. We left Donnie with his grandfather. Then we left for Parkersburg, after exchanging the Horton car for a Pontiac coupe.

Q How long were you in Parkersburg?

A Till the following Monday.

Q Where did Crawford leave you?

A In Wheeling.

Q Where did you stay in Parkersburg?

A At the same room we had.

Q How did you get out of Parkersburg?

A In another car.

A. Buffalo, N. Y.

Q. Where did you stay.

A. In a rooming house.

Q. What name did you use.

A. Albert Gates.

Q. Why did you use that name.

A. I thought my wife might enter suit against me for leaving her.

Q. You say you met Mrs. Schroeder in 1927?

A. Yes.

Q. Donnie is 4 years old?

A. Yes.

Q. At the time you were coming back did she say anything about the paternity of Donnie?

A. Objected to and withdrawn.

Q. What part of Buffalo did you room?

A. The northern part.

Q. Did you live in Pittsburgh?

A. Yes, Irene.

Q. Where did you stay?

A. Near Ohio street.

Q. You were in Pittsburgh two weeks?

A. Yes.

Q. What were you doing?

A. Pruning trees.

Q. Where?

A. I can't tell you exactly it was in the northwestern part of Pittsburgh.

Q. Can you name one single individual you met in Pittsburgh?

A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you go when you left Pittsburgh?

A. To Gary, Indiana.

Q. How long did you stay there?

A. One week.

Q. Meet anybody there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you go then?

A. Jefferson City, Missouri.

Q. What did you do there?

A. We wanted to see Irene's brother.

Q. What else did you do there?

A. Went to shows.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. To Congor, N. C.

Q. Irene with you?

A. Yes.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. Bristol, Tenn.

Q. And from there?

A. To Bellaire, O.

Q. Where did you stay?

A. In a hotel.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. Columbus, O.

Q. How long did you stay?

A. I don't know, just a short time.

Q. Did you have a purpose going to Columbus?

A. No.

Q. Then where?

A. To Cincinnati, O.

Q. How many hotels did you stay in there?

A. About three.

Q. What were you doing in Cincinnati, O.?

A. Just went there.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. Back to Benwood.

Q. Then where?

A. We went to Greensburg, Pa.

Q. Some cross examination here on the trips around until they got ready to come to Pennsylvania.

Q. Did Tom Crawford know you were going to Pennsylvania?

A. No.

Q. When did you decide you were coming to Pennsylvania?

A. When we got to Steubenville.

Q. When you left Wheeling did you have a weapon?

A. I did.

Q. The 38 Spanish special?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Irene had a gun didn't she?

A. Yes.

Q. Did she have a 32?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you purchase a box of cartridges that morning for her?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Recess for 15 minutes at this point.

Q. What kind of weapon did Crawford have?

A. A 32 automatic.

Q. Was it loaded?

A. I suppose so.

Q. Did you know he had it?

A. He got it in Steubenville.

Q. When did you decide you were going to Butler?

A. After we got to Pittsburgh.

Q. When you started for Pennsylvania when you were in Butler did Tom Crawford have his gun loaded?

A. I don't know.

Q. Why were you going to Pittsburgh?

A. Tom had never been in that city.

Q. You came to Pennsylvania just for Tom's sake?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You decided to go to Butler?

A. By way of Butler.

Q. Why?

A. We wanted to get to Youngstown, then to Lisbon and on to Irene's brother near Cambridge, O.

Q. When did you decide you were going to Irene's brother?

A. When we were in Butler.

Q. You resided in Butler, as being from Dillonvale, O., were you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were you Albert Cartwright?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was Irene the first person to enter the store in Butler?

A. Of us three she was.

Q. Where was Tom Crawford?

A. In the car.

Q. What kind of holster did you have?

A. A tan one.

Q. Where did Irene have her gun?

A. In her pocketbook.

Q. Did you know what Irene was going to do in the Butler store?

A. Yes, she was going to buy apples.

Q. What were you supposed to do?

A. Come in and hold the store-keeper up.

Q. Where was Donnie?

A. On the floor of the car.

Q. Where was Tom Crawford seated?

A. On the back seat.

Q. What was his part of the hold-up?

A. He was to come in and talk to anybody in the front of the store.

Q. If you needed any help he was to help you?

A. Yes.

Q. Here Dague illustrated how he backed Wish Angert into the back room in Butler. Taking a gun he used Margiotti as his foil.

Q. Did you have ropes in your pocket?

A. Twine.

Q. Were they cut to length?

A. Yes.

Q. Why?

A. To tie the people up.

Q. Did Irene take Wish Angert's wrist watch?

A. I don't know.

Q. On the way to New Castle did you have any discussion about the police?

A. Yes.

Q. I never thought anything about the police.

A. Yes.

Q. You used the child as a smoke screen?

A. Well, a little boy in the car would distract people's attention.

Q. When you saw the officers your mind went back to the Butler store didn't it?

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. Where was your gun?

A. In my holster.

Q. Did Irene say anything to you when you met the officers?

A. No.

Q. Brady Paul asked you for your license?

A. Yes.

Q. You knew you had no certificate?

A. Yes.

Q. What did you expect to do?

A. I expected to talk to him.

Q. You say he covered you with a gun?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did Paul say?

A. He didn't say anything.

Q. He saw you get out, pull your gun and he didn't shoot?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever tell this story before?

A. No, sir. This is the first time I ever told it and that's exactly how it happened.

Q. Did you both get out the same side of the car?

A. Yes.

Q. Did Paul say anything as he backed up except "Moore pull your gun?"

A. No, sir.

Q. Why did you pull your gun?

A. I thought he was going to shoot.

Q. So you and Irene got out of the car as fast as you could and pulled your gun?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you next to the car or was Irene?

A. Irene.

Q. You were next to Baldwin house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Dague then backed Margiotti towards the jury with a gun showing the jury how the shooting happened.

Q. Now you say Brady Paul shot you in the hip?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did you ever tell anybody how you got shot until you went on the stand today?

A. No.

Q. Now you say Brady Paul shot at you and you didn't shoot him, you say Moore shot you through the hat and you didn't shoot him?

A. I didn't shoot at them.

Q. Then you walked to Moore and took his gun?

A. Yes.

Q. Who filed the initials S H P off the gun?

A. I did, in Parkersburg.

Q. Then after all the shooting and you had taken Moore's gun you ran back and fired a shot at Brady Paul?

A. I fired a shot in his direction.

Q. Did you run down the road after him.

A. No, I didn't go by the car.

Q. When you got into the car didn't you tell Irene you had been shot?

A. No.

Q. How many shots were fired at you in Arizona?

A. I don't know, a number of shots were fired.

Q. As you left the Butler road did you see anybody?

A. I didn't see anybody.

Q. Moore was on the ground apparently dead?

A. Yes.

Q. See a truck out there?

A. A truck was coming up from the rear.

Q. You had a Spanish 38 special Irene had a 32 and Tom Crawford a 32 automatic?

A. Yes.

Q. You can't be mistaken?

A. No.

Q. Did you buy a holster in Pittsburgh?

A. I did not.

Q. Where did Irene get her gun?

A. I bought it for her in Pittsburgh.

Q. When?

A. Last August or first of September.

Q. Why did you buy a gun for yourself?

A. For protection.

Q. Protection from whom?

A. From holdup.

Q. Did you expect to be held up?

A. You never know.

Q. Did you buy the gun expecting to hold up the Butler store?

A. No.

Q. Saturday Morning Session

Q. In reference to the wound in your hip did you talk to County Detective Lee about it?

A. No.

Q. Didn't Mr. Lee ask you where you got it?

A. No.

Q. When you asked by Mr. Brooks and Lt. Boettner where you got it?

A. I don't think so.

Q. Did you tell any of them where you got it?

A. No.

Peter's Adventures

THE MONSTER IN THE POOL

"Let's go down to the pool!" shrieked the Dragon-Flies in chorus. "Just like all the insects!" thought Peter. "Let one of them have an idea and you'd think they all thought of the same thing at the same time." But Peter didn't have a chance to say anything out loud, even if he had thought it wise, for the Dragon-Flies, suiting their actions to their words, were heading for the water. The little ripples at the edge of the pool tried to play tag with Peter. Once when he stepped too close they wet his shoes. Peter saw a queer object that looked like a big clear lying in the mud in the shallow of the pool. Peter knelt down the better to view it, for he was almost sure the thing, whatever it was, moved as he approached. By now, though, the boy was used to the tricks of the insect folk and made up his mind this time he would not be fooled by them. Always making believe they were stones or twigs and then hopping up right under his nose and scaring him half to pieces.

Peter stared and stared, until his eyes ached. The Dragon-Flies watching. At last the boy was rewarded. A tiny beetle came swimming along so lightly he did little more than skim the rippling surface. Suddenly, just as the little fellow reached the clump of weeds in the shadow of which lay what Peter had thought was a small cigar, that "small cigar" shot out an arm at the end of which pinched him for fingers, and caught the unsuspecting little beetle.

"Eek!" squeaked the little beetle, but too late. A snap, and poor beetle was inside a pair of locked jaws. Peter was horrified. Again an insect was not what it seemed! Instead of being a harmless nothing at all it was a cruel cannibal who ate up his neighbors exactly in the same fashion as Praying Mantis devoured those who crossed his path in the meadow. Then the monster this time his prey was a wee grub that floated down stream not dreaming of the danger that lurked in the mud beneath him.

Seven Arrested On Extortion Charge

Several Philadelphia Physicians Have Been "Shaken-Down" By Extortion Ring

(International News Service.) PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Seven alleged members of an extortion and blackmail gang accused of preying on prominent physicians of the city are being held for action by the local grand jury today. Warrants for the arrest of an eighth man said to be a magistrate's constable have been sworn out.

The plot, detectives believe, may involve several magistrates and a couple of city officials.

The conspirators are said to have extorted thousands of dollars from a number of physicians. The scheme came to light when Dr. Frederick W. Faltermayer, finally reported to the police. He said that he had been "shaken down" for $6,500.

Bound And Gagged By Masked Bandits

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., March 29.—Mrs. Marian Luda, 20, wife of Joseph Luda of Pine street, was gagged and bound to a bedpost at her home late Thursday night by two masked men, who ransacked the entire house for money. Mrs. Luda was alone at the time when the two men sprang into her bedroom and demanded money. She refused the request and they tied her to the foot of a bed. They left without any loot, overlooking a $10 bill in a flower vase. Her husband found her tied an hour later after gaining entrance through a window on the first floor.

"Is the master of the house up?" "Sh! He's asleep upstairs in his cradle."

Wrecking Concern Buys Railroad

(International News Service.) ALLIANCE, O., March 29.—It's a far cry from president of a wrecking concern to the status of a rail magnate.

But that's the ostensibly astonishing "rise" of L. P. Kulka, of the Kulka Iron and Metal company, wreckers.

The Cincinnati, Fort Wayne & Findlay railroad, a twelve-mile link from Haviland to Grover Hill, Ohio, has been bought by Kulka.

Not for operation purposes, however. The metal of rolling stock and rails will be salvaged.

Revival Begins At Croton Church

Woman Evangelist And Preacher Will Open Services Sunday In Croton Church

Great preparations have been made by the members and pastor of Croton Avenue Methodist Episcopal church for the revival services which open in the church Sunday. Prayer and praise meetings have been held the past week in the homes of various members and a spiritual attitude has been created throughout the congregation.

Sunday Evangelist Rev. Margaret Joshua, wife of the pastor will bring the messages.

Mrs. Joshua has filled some of the outstanding pupils of England and Wales as well as in this country, having preached in New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Harrisburg, Trenton, N. J., Pittsburgh, Erie, Franklin, Oil City and numerous other places.

Young People Will Present Program

Hoover Heights Tabernacle Will Have Special Program Tuesday Evening

There will be a special program given by the Young People at the Hoover Heights Tabernacle, next Tuesday evening at 7:30. It is a songalogue entitled "The Pink Rose." The program of songs centers about the relating of the story of Delia, known to the New York Bowery and slum district as the "Blue Bird." It is the true account of the wonderful conversion of this girl as related by Mrs. Whittemore, who was instrumental in her salvation. Rev. and Mrs. Scripture once heard Mrs. Whittemore tell the story herself.

The community Bible study class, which is sponsored by the local Y. W. C. A. has been growing in interest as the winter passed, new members being enrolled at almost every session. This class has been conducted Tuesday evenings in the Y. W. by Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church. Mr. Bennett took up the "Life and Teachings of Jesus" at the beginning of the series and has expounded the various phases in an intelligent, clear manner so the students have been greatly helped in their understanding of the earthly life of Jesus.

April 15 will mark the closing of the lessons for this series and the three remaining lessons will concentrate on the "Easter Season," taking up the Life of Jesus just prior to his crucifixion as well as the glorious resurrection.

Enumerators To Count Persons Alive April 1

Children Born After First Of Month Will Not Be Counted In Population

FIGURES TAKEN AS OF APRIL 1

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 29.—If a person dies between April 1 and the time the census-taker arrives, he will be counted as being still alive in the 1930 decennial census, according to instructions which have been sent out by the census bureau. Children born after April 1 will not be counted in the census, although they may be two or three weeks old by the time the enumerator arrives at their home. Population figures in the census will be compiled as of April 1, although the entire month will be needed to complete the census taking. The census reports will picture the United States as it was on one particular day, despite the fact that the population is continually changing in size and moving from one place to another.

All persons will be enumerated as being residents of whatever place is their "usual place of abode" on April 1, regardless of where they may be when the census-taker arrives. Each enumerator will also take a count of the number of persons who are absent visiting, in schools, or ill in hospitals or health resorts.

On the other hand, a number of persons who are actually present when the enumerator calls will not be counted in the population of that place. Among these will be persons visiting in the district, transient lodgers, students, and persons who eat or work in the district but who sleep in another district.

Students, transient boarders, construction workers, teachers, etc., however, who have no home or "permanent place of abode" will be counted in the district where they are found by the census-taker.

Stray Bullet Hits Windshield Of Car

Cracks The Glass But Fortunately Fails To Go Through It

E. E. McClymonds, 501 Young street, reports the most unusual occurrence on the streets of the city, especially in the downtown district that has been reported in some time by the police department. He was enroute north on North Jefferson street about three o'clock Friday afternoon and just as he turned onto Sycamore street, some unknown person discharged a twenty-two calibre revolver.

The bullet struck the windshield of the McClymonds car right in front of the face of Mr. McClymonds, cracking the glass of the windshield but most fortunately for Mr. McClymonds, not going through.

Had the bullet gone through, Mr. McClymonds would have been seriously injured or perhaps killed.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

WE'RE NOT ALIKE

A hard-working expression, quite inaccurate, is this: Human nature is all alike. The inference is that people do not differ greatly. The fact is they differ remarkably. They differ so much that sometimes one is led to believe some humans belong to a different order in the animal kingdom. You cannot tell what your reaction to an impulse or a situation is going to be because you have observed the reaction of someone else to the same situation. There are people who love the sea and those who love the hill country. And there are those who love the flat country best of all. The writer wouldn't trade ten miles of winding road in a fairly level country for an ocean and a chain of mountains.

We all differ. Our problem is to make the best adjustments to life—for ourselves—of which we are capable. We are not called upon to live like for anybody else or even to tell anybody else how to live it.

STUBBORN

Child training experts tell us that stubbornness in children reaches its peak at the age of two. Being short on language, about the only tool of expression the two-year-old has is the word "no." Stubbornness is one of those characteristics that run all the way through childhood to old age. It isn't so bad in children. It can be dealt with. It's an unfortunate trait in grown-ups. Note that it is really a child's failing. When you observe it in men and women you may conclude they are not entirely grown up.

FACE TO FACE

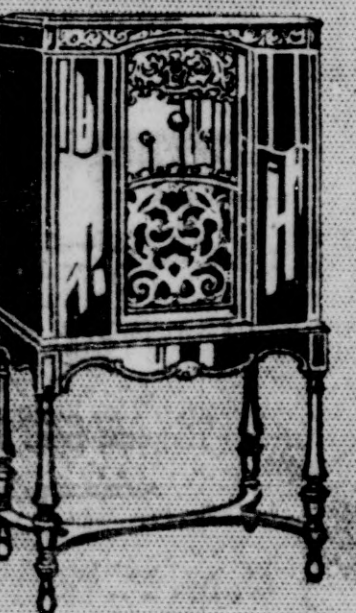

When MacDonald, prime minister of England, mounted the platform in the United States senate and talked face to face with the men who make the laws of the United States and who have it within their power to declare or not to declare war, he made a tremendous contribution to the cause of peace and international understanding. The question now arises if this same procedure cannot be worked out among all civilized nations. Why wouldn't it be a great force for peace to have the heads of governments speak from time to time directly to the law-making bodies of other governments? The congress of the United States would gladly give the head of every government in Europe a cordial reception and an earnest hearing in any critical situation.

STILL ROOM

A few days ago an aviator flying from the capital of Canada, to the capital of New Hampshire made a landing near the border. He came down in an Indian reservation. Nobody spoke English. The place apparently had changed little and the people had changed little for the past 300 years. It is a comfort to know there are still quiet, unchanged, undisturbed places on the American continent.

Times certainly do change. An educator suggests that students be watched closely in order to prevent excess study.—The Sioux Falls Argus-Leader.

ABE MARTIN

On Crop Curtailment

TO CURTAIL, OR NOT CURTAIL

"Hundreds o' thousan' o' farmers have fersaken agriculture in the past few years, an' many more thousan' lured by outside diversions have only half way farmed, an' on top o' this the consumers o' foodstuffs in this country have grown by millions, an' yet we read that 'blind production fer an unknown demand is the bane o' agriculture.' In other words, we're told that the farmer is producin' too much. Nothin' is said about an under-production o' money. Ther'd be no over-production o' foodstuffs today if we were all prosperous, or even breakin' even. The curtailment of automobile an' malt production is not urged. The way the farmer has been livin', or tryin' to live, with his auto an' bath tub an' radio don't look much like he's been over producin'."

declared Corner-Elect Jeff Moots last night at Apple Grove Grange 54. An' then he continued, "If the farmer worked any less he'd have to use dumbbells for exercise." An' o' course the truth is the farmer hasn't been killin' himself producin'.

Of late years the farmer has devoted fer more time to ponderin' in' than he ever did to plowin'. The modern farmer has a big overhead to meet, tires, auto polish, shavin' soap, gasoline, oil, radio tubes, bath salts, hog serum, an' haircuts all necessary to progressive farmin'. Farmin' hasn't like it wuz in the ole days o' big beards an' corduroy roads when a farmer only knocked off work long enough to vote the Republican ticket. Goin' to town wuz an undertakin', an' a brutal imposition on horses that had worked all week. If the home run short o' calico, indigo, ague tonic, ci thread, the farmer would say, "The next time I vote the Republican ticket we'll stock up." He wanted to make one trip to town per year do the trick. Today the farmer takes time off to shave, a thing unheard of when agriculture wuz in its infancy, as wuz also changin' clothes to go to town. But I expect most o' the farmer's time is taken up in ponderin'. I'm a little disposed to think that over-production hasn't what ails the farmer, an' that crop curtailment won't appeal to him. Durin' the latter years the farmer has been abused fer comin' to town durin' work hours, fer wearin' a cellar, an' drivin' a car, an' now he's accused o' gluttin' the market. Durin' the past year most farmers have been settin' back waitin' to see what happens, so they couldn't have been producin' enough o' anything to Jim the market. Ever'thing a farmer buys from a set o' studs for his dinner shirt to a thrashin' machine, is the product o' some close-reeced corporation. Farmers, too, should organize an' either starve society or make it jump through, plant what they please, an' conduct their business without any white collar advice. Curtailment o' crops! What if a big spurt o' prosperity comes along an' found the crops curtailed?

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Well what do you know about this? A lady from Waterbury, Conn., wants to know if a man, to keep peace in the family, shouldn't get up and get his own breakfast, and then get his wife's breakfast and carry it to her, in bed. Some man in her town does that, and I strongly suspect that she wants my approval in print so that she can show it to friend husband. She writes: "Maybe you will call this silly, but there is a man who gets up in the morning, gets his breakfast, carries his wife's breakfast to her in bed, and then goes to work. The wife then turns over and goes to sleep. You know, Miss Allard, there are many wives who get very angry when they get up and get their husband's breakfast, and if more husbands would do this and let their wives eat in bed, maybe they would have more peace in the family. If a woman doesn't like to get up in the morning everybody ought to figure out how to have peace at home. I think that man sets a good example for men who want a peaceful home. I know you will agree, Leola, because a woman is weak and a man is strong, and stand more hours work than a woman. Please print this and see what people think about it."

A woman who is well, and who gets angry because she has to get up and get breakfast for her provider, who is on his way to work to earn money to support her, doesn't deserve a husband. She should have to get up and get her own breakfast and then go to work and earn the money she spends. And she should have to work hard to earn it.

Among women who have never worked for a living there seems to be, very often, a total lack of understanding of what it means to get out end earn a good living. They sit back and wish they could have what other women have, and they complain if they don't get it. They grumble and grouse and see no reason why, "because women are weak and men are strong", they shouldn't be pampered and waited upon."

I'm for chivalry (being a woman) but I think that a man who will let a woman make a slave out of him and grumble if she has to get his breakfast, is a Sap. If he stands for it he deserves to have to tread the mill the rest of his life. If a husband doesn't demand anything he isn't going to get anything. Other people aren't going to hurry around, seeing that husbands get their rights. You can't put a backbone into a spineless wretch. Such wives are selfish, but such husbands are fools, which, I think, is worse. I suppose on Saturday afternoons she makes him scrub the floors! No, I don't think it's right. Now show THIS to your husband.

Ships Ground In Dense Coast Fog

Two Vessels Reported Grounded In Thick Soupy Fog That Hangs Over Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Rescued after the Japanese freighter Rhine Maru crashed on the rocky shore off Point Sur, about 100 miles south of here, the crew of thirty-eight today was being brought to San Francisco on the Steamer Humboldt. The ship went ashore while the California coast was shrouded in fog. A second trip, the Lumber Schooner Claremont, grouping her way through the fog, crashed on the rocks of Point Bonita in the Golden Gate. Although the Claremont was waterlogged and sinking, the captain succeeded in running his ship back into San Francisco Bay and beached her on a sandy ledge off Crissy field.

Sidewalk On Bridge Starts To Crumble

Although but in use for a short period of time, the sidewalks on the new North Street Bridge are starting to crumble. Whether the condition has been caused by the frost or whether poor material was used in the work, cannot be determined, but in some spots large sections of the walk have crumbled on top. Close observation of the condition would lead one to believe that a thin coating of cement was placed on top which has chipped off, the material underneath being soft and easily scraped off.

Missionary Program In Sunday School

At the Sunday school hour, 9:30, Sunday morning the First Presbyterian church school will present a special missionary program, with a clever playlet, "Giving the Light" as a feature. Those taking part in the play are Virginia Reecher, Virginia Ramsey, Mary Louise Kirkpatrick, Viola Dufford and Sara Jean Clelland. A special offering will be lifted, which will go to Rev. Carline, the missionary supported in Wyoming by the church.

Carnegie Coal Company Is Unloading Property

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 29.—Sale of the Carnegie Coal Company's extensive properties, conservatively estimated as worth $15,000,000 by mining engineers, was continued Friday till April 10. The properties, formerly controlled by John A. Bell, were foreclosed by holders of first mortgage bonds. Offered for sale as a whole Thursday, the highest bid was $6,000,000 made by J. T. M. Stoner, chairman of the bondholders' protective committee. Two other bids, one of $5,600,000 and the other for $5,000,000 were made by persons whose identity was not disclosed. None was accepted. The properties were then offered in 17 parcels, upon which not a single bid was made, and the sale was continued till April 10. The properties comprise 21,265 acres of coal land in Washington and Allegheny counties and in West Virginia; 4,750 acres of surface lands; eight mines; two docks at Duluth, Minn. and Superior, Wis.; and a retail coal yard at Wellsburg, W. Va. In event the property is not sold by April 10, it will also be offered at auction at Wellsburg, W. Va., April 11; at Duluth, April 14, and at Superior, April 16. It was said Friday.

K. Of C. To Observe Anniversary Event

Local Knights Will Take Part In Celebration To Be Held Monday
Monday evening, March 31, the Knights of Columbus of the forty councils of Western Pennsylvania will stage at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh, one of the most ambitious programs in the history of the order. It will be an anniversary degree in honor of the founding of the order. Visiting officials will visit from all parts of the ten districts into which Western Pennsylvania is divided. This city will be represented by Grand Knight Thomas J. Cunningham of St. Mary's Council and quite a number of the local members. Louis F. S. Cook, Grand Knight of the Pittsburgh Council call the gathering together, after which Supreme Knight Martin H. Canady will assume charge. The observance is in honor of the forty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the order. The plain people could get as much as lobbyists do if they would be as specific instead of howling "Gimmie!"

MONDAY AND TUESDAY "DYNAMITE"

"M. U. F." Interviews Granted 226 Young Men At Senior High School

Two hundred and twenty-six young men of the senior high school interviewed prominent business and professional men of New Castle during the two-day "Move Up Forward" campaign conducted under the auspices of the Senior Hi-Y club on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. W. A. Thomas, boys' work secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. announced today.

Sixteen interested men, all leaders in their own particular field, volunteered their time and services for the two days and talked confidentially to the young men of the school about their problems, especially those concerning the choice of their life's work. Interviews began at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued until school was dismissed in the afternoon.

"The 'Move Up Forward' drive," Mr. Thomas went on to explain, "is something our senior high school club has been sponsoring for several years. We believe that it benefits the fellows who are interviewed, and any number of parents and others have commended us for sponsoring it. Without a particle of doubt it is a great help to the boys in that undecided age who haven't decided what to make of themselves. The talks with the men are confidential and they can ask of the man with whom they are conferring things that they would not otherwise, and in this way get a wider perspective of the business or profession they think they might follow."

Splendid co-operation was given this year by members of the local Kiwanis club's vocational guidance bureau, as well as Prof. F. L. Orth and Prof. E. R. Patterson, senior high authorities, who are strongly back of the interviewing proposition.

Men of the city with whom the boys enjoyed interviews this year, the vocation or profession they represent, are as follows:

DeLace Cole, merchant; Rev. S. B. Copeland, minister; Rev. E. A. Crooks, minister; Rev. A. I. Seymour, retired missionary; C. E. McGrath, florist; George Lyon, business college; John Maher, banker; Attorney J. Roy Mer-

Four Trainmen Are Injured In Wreck

Four Are Injured, Two Probably Fatally As Result Of Freight
Wreck Near Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Four trainmen were hurt, two probably fatally, early today when a fast New York-Wilmington freight train of the Pennsylvania Railroad was wrecked at the Frankford Junction of the lines here. The engine overturned and 14 freight cars with their contents were strewn over the entire five tracks of the system tying up all traffic.

High voltage electric power lines with their supporting towers were torn down adding to the damage. The most seriously injured: Engineer John P. Hagan, 35, of 324 N. Preston St., Philadelphia, and Arthur Robinson 22 year old Jersey City fireman. Both were crushed, burned and scalded so badly they may die. They were pulled from a 45 foot deep pit along Tacony Creek which flows beside the tracks at this point and taken to Frankford hospital by fellow trainmen.

The wrecked cars were loaded with heavy pipe and dynamo. Traffic was re-routed to New York over the Atlantic City division as officials said it would be several hours before the debris could be cleared.

The train was composed of 70 cars pulled by one of the huge locomotives of the system. It was travelling at the rate of 40 miles an hour when the wreck occurred. The engine apparently jumped the track at the intersection of a crossover line.

Girl Is Shot In Foot By Her Lover

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 29.—Police are investigating the wounding of Miss Lilla McManus, 20, of Wheeler by her sweetheart, H. J. Hallway, 31, at Alverton, Westmoreland county. The girl is in the Connelville State hospital with a gunshot wound in the right foot.

She told Chief of Police John C. Wall that Hallway shot her after they had an argument. She declared the man only intended to frighten her and that she did not disclose the real cause of the injury to her family, saying the wound had been caused by a street car rail.

It is reported that Thomas A. Edison thinks people should eat the same thing every day. We doubt it, but if so, we only say that nature intended that man to run a boarding house.—The Farm Journal.

McBride Post To Hold Pilgrimage

Will Take Big Class Of Candidates To Sharon For Initiation
April 1

Members of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are planning a big pilgrimage to Sharon on the evening of Tuesday, April 1, when they will visit the Sharon Post and take a large class of candidates with them for initiation.

The famous Warren, O., degree team, which exemplified the degree at the public meeting here last fall in the Carnegie Auditorium will put on the degree work in connection with the ceremony in Sharon Tuesday evening.

It is expected that close to a hundred vets will comprise the delegation from McBride Post, which will visit the Sharon post on this occasion.

Home Town Folks Help Start Plant

KANE, Pa., March 29.—Fires were lighted Friday in the tank of the Interstate Window Glass company's factory at Mt. Jewett, 12 miles east of here, and the residents of the village are rejoicing as this gives assurance that their main industry will be in operation within three weeks, employing 300 men. This factory has been idle for the past three years.

Residents of Mt. Jewett staged a financial drive in order to secure money to aid the Interstate company in placing the factory in operation.

Young Man Found Victim Of Murder
(International News Service)
SALEM, N. J., March 29.—The body of Clayton Moll, 19, an employee of the Salem Glass Works, was found floating in a creek near here nearly Friday. Police say he was robbed and murdered.

Police officials declared that death was due to strangulation after the youth had been rendered unconscious by a blow on the head. His head was badly bruised.

Grove City Man Suffers Injury, Three Are Killed

Steel Girder From Railroad Bridge Falls, Three Workmen Killed, Three Injured

(International News Service)
RICHWOOD, W. Va., March 29.—Three men were in a critical condition at Montgomery hospital here on Friday and three others were dead following the crash of a steel girder from a railway bridge being constructed near Swiss.

The dead were John Swan, Fort Pitt, Pa.; H. C. Lytle, Columbus, O.; and Homer Smith, Pomeroy, O. They were killed instantly.

The injured were Ray Johnson, Grove City, Pa., and A. C. Davidson, South Point, O. The name of another worker injured was not ascertained.

Students from New River State College were called to give blood transfusions, so serious was the condition of the wounded men.

The crew had been working on a bridge being constructed for the Nicholas, Fayette, and Greenbrier railroad at the time of the accident.

Hon. Thomas W. Phillips, Jr.,
Butler, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Phillips:—

There is a wide-spread interest in the attitude of the respective candidates for governor toward the 18th amendment and its enforcing laws.

The purpose of this letter is, therefore, to ask you whether you favor the maintenance and enforcement of the 18th amendment, or its repeal, and the repeal of its enforcing laws. The enforcing code in Pennsylvania is known as the Snyder-Armstrong law.

Exact duplicates of this letter are being sent to all your opponents. We would appreciate a prompt reply.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) HOMER W. TOPE,
HARRY M. CHALFANT.

Phillips' Reply.

March 26, 1930.

Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League,
722-726 Witherspoon Building,
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Attention Homer W. Tope, D. D., Superintendent, and Harry M. Chalfant, D. D., Editor.

Gentlemen:—

I am just in receipt of your letter of March 24 stating that there is a widespread interest in the attitude of the respective candidates for governor towards the 18th amendment and its enforcing laws, and asking whether I favor the maintenance and enforcement of the 18th amendment or its repeal and the repeal of its enforcing laws; also the enforcing code in Pennsylvania known as the Snyder-Armstrong law.

Prohibition has become a political issue of major importance, and the opportunity you have given me for stating definitely my position is appreciated. The 18th amendment and enforcing laws relating thereto, also the Pennsylvania Snyder-Armstrong law are the sources of so much political corruption and widespread resentment on the part of individuals that in my opinion, for the sake of the stability of our government and the peace of its citizens, the 18th amendment must be repealed.

Inasmuch as one of the most effective means of forcing the repeal of the 18th amendment is the repeal by the several states of all laws similar to the Snyder-Armstrong law, I wish to state most positively that if elected governor, I will put forth my best efforts to consummate the speedy repeal of the Snyder-Armstrong law.

Again expressing my appreciation for this opportunity to state not only to the members of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League but to all the citizens of the Commonwealth my position on the issue that is uppermost in the minds of thinking people, I am

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) T. W. PHILLIPS, JR.

Hunting Husband; Finds His Body

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., March 29.—On her way to a telephone to continue her search for her husband, Mrs. Vincent B. Merryman found his body on the porch of a neighboring house. Merryman, who was 37, was shot in the head and a revolver was nearby.

Dr. Leroy Goff, the coroner, decided after an investigation that Merryman killed himself, although no motive for his act was learned.

Merryman is survived by his widow and three children. He left home apparently in good spirits.

Negro Pastor Is Sentenced For Killing

REVINGSTOWN, O., March 29.—Rev. Maston Rhodes, 53, colored, and former pastor of the Mt. Zion Baptist church, was given a sentence of from one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary for shooting Otto Campbell, one of his parishioners. Campbell later died from his wound, when blood poisoning developed.

Rhodes was originally sentenced to death in the electric chair, and spent some time in the death house at Columbus with Dr. Snook, electrocuted February 28.

Easy Picking For Butler Candidates

BUTLER, Pa., March 28.—Indications are that there will not be any contests for the legislative nomination on the Republican ticket in Butler county at the primaries May 20. The closing time for securing places on the ticket will expire at 5 o'clock next Monday evening in Harrisburg.

Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver falls, serving his second term as a member of the lower house of congress from the 26th district, will probably get all the Republican votes of Butler. There has been no announcement of candidates to oppose Representative Swick.

Butler county will elect two members of the house of the general assembly next November. The only Republicans who are candidates for the nominations at the primaries are George H. Bicker of Cabot and Charles C. Braham of Butler. Both have served one term as members of the state legislature.

Man Is Killed By Fast Train

AMBRIDGE, Pa., March 29.—An unidentified man, about 60, believed to be from Point Pleasant, W. Va., was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, near the Legionville bridge. A short time before the accident the man told Roy Whitehouse, ticket agent at Economy station, he was on his way to Point Pleasant to visit his only sister.

The body was removed to a morgue. The man was run down by a fast Chicago train. The train was stopped for the body.

Hand Is Caught In Sausage Mill

KITTANNING, March 29.—George, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Unger of Rimer, had a narrow escape from losing the fingers on his right hand when he got them caught in a food chopper which was being used to make sausage. The little one was rushed to the hospital here and given treatment.

Foil Attempt To Blow Up City Hall At Gary, Indiana

Four Sticks Of Dynamite Found In One Of Entrances To Beautiful Structure

(International News Service)
GARY, Ind., March 29.—Four sticks of dynamite were found today in one of the entrances of the city hall here in what police believe was a plot to blow up the building.

A box of fuse caps was found near the dynamite, but the caps had not been affixed to the sticks of explosive. An immediate investigation was begun on the theory that the supposed plot was the outgrowth of Mayor R. O. Johnson's vigorous drive against liquor, vice and gambling in the city.

Roy McConnell, who found the dynamite, police said, probably frightened the dynamiters before they could complete their destructive mission.

The city hall is not yet two years old and was erected at a cost of $1,000,000.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Calmness And Quietness Urged In Babies Care

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
A mother writes from Steuben, Wis.:
"Dear Dr. Myers: I have been very much interested in your articles and am wondering if it would be possible for you to help me."

"I have two children, one nearly 20 months, the other three years and 19 months, and it is the older one which is my problem. First I must tell you they were both colicky babies, screaming night and day nearly until they were weaned. My oldest baby, a girl, seems to be terribly nervous. She had whooping cough at the age of six weeks, and at two years she had spinal meningitis; both times she was very near death for weeks and of course, I naturally have humored her through these two great sicknesses."

"She chews her finger nails, and when she cannot get them she chews her toe nails. Now, please don't think this spinal trouble left her simple, as she is a very high-strung, intelligent child."

"I have an awful time getting her to take her nap in the p. m. This afternoon she lay there for two hours, so tired, and became quite pale trying to go to sleep; at last I told her to get up."

"I would like very much to bring her up right, and know I am not doing right, as I am very nervous myself. I spank her quite often, and know I shouldn't—although I always stop and think before I do it and am not in a fit of temper. Many times I stop and wonder, now what shall I do. Every time I spank I nearly break me up afterward. I am wondering if you could please tell me a few things. I know there are a number of books on child training, but all I have been able to find are very expensive."

Answer: Mother, dear, you have my sympathy. Any mother who nurses a child through such a long, dangerous illness as spinal meningitis surely has endured suffering herself, and of course, on account of her tenderness and love, has done a good deal to spoil the child.

You note that you are very nervous. Now, take care of yourself. Try to get more sleep and recreation. Lie down for half an hour or so every afternoon and let some things go. Let dad or someone else keep those children at different times and go out two or three times a week for your own enjoyment. You will feel better, and you will be better able to guide those little children well.

Try to be more calm, speak in quiet, gentle tones, read a great deal to the children, particularly to the older child. Work out ways of reducing your commands about 85 per cent. Try to get along with less punishment. Sit down with dad and talk over the few definite things for which you will punish, then hold yourself to them and never wobble. Don't make it a matter of feeling at all. Use your head more and you can nearly always spare your hand. Perhaps you can get away from spanking, by and by, entirely. If, instead, you let the child sit in a chair for a definite period by the clock for a few of her naughty deeds. But pick out just a few. Good punishment comes very rarely, and it has no emotions suggested by the punisher.

Stick to the afternoon nap. Don't tell her she must sleep; tell her she must not get up till the clock rings. You can obtain free my 11 letters to parents of pre-school children by writing to the United States bureau of education. Write also to the children's bureau, Washington, D. C., and ask for all the free materials on child care and training. Send a five-cent stamp to the superintendent of public documents, Washington, D. C., and ask for my pamphlet, "Education of Young Children Through Celebrating Their Successes." Go also to your nearest library for free books.

Good Chances Are Open In U. S. Navy

There are at the present time, two good opportunities open to young men of the city and vicinity, who are interested in getting to see the world and at the same time get an education along some mechanical line that appeals to them.

These openings are for skilled patternmakers, second class and hospital apprentices second class. Young men with two years high school training and experience in a drug store with the desire to become pharmacists are desired in the latter class.

Those interested should get in touch with Chief Electrician's Mate O. O. Pierson at the city hall recruiting station of the Navy.

World War Veteran Given Citation By U. S. Government

(International News Service)

JOINTOWN, Pa., Mar. 29—John J. Lynch, world war veteran, former resident of Dunbar was decorated for bravery during September and August 1918, but did not know it today.

He will not find out until a letter, mailed today, reaches him in Grand Saline, Tex., where he now lives.

His father-in-law, O. A. Blades of Republic penned the "glad news" and enclosed the government records and citation which were recently forwarded to him.

The citation states that Lynch, a private in the medical detachment, 10th infantry of the twenty-eighth division "showed great courage and coolness in caring for wounded and carrying them to the rear under heavy enemy shell fire."

It was during this action that he was wounded in the left leg.

Lynch lived in Dunbar at the time of his enlistment but later moved to Grindstone and then to Republic.

Legge Will Likely Remain As Chairman Of Federal Board

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—Although Alexander H. Legge accepted the chairmanship of the Federal Farm Board for only one year, it is probable he will agree to continue in the post when his year expires in June.

Having inaugurated a policy which has brought him into conflict with grain commission interests, through the belief is prevalent here that the chairman will of necessity be forced to remain in his post to carry on the movement which is initiated.

President Hoover is desirous of having Legge remain. At the White House today it was said the president and Legge have not discussed the matter, but there is every indication that Legge will stay.

THE QUESTION BOX

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.)

How many times was Henry Clay a candidate for the presidency of the United States and why was he not elected?

He was three times candidate for the presidency and each time was defeated because of sectional rivalry, which he alone, as a member of the cabinet or congress, was always able to quiet at a later time. Many prominent persons of his day regretted during the closing years of Clay's life that it had been possible for the country to confer upon him the highest office within its gift, because they felt he was the greatest man of his time.

Is the name S. S. Van Dine a pseudonym? I refer to the author of several murder mystery stories.

It is. The correct name is Willard Huntington Wright, under which he wrote several books on art and esthetics.

Have any negroes been graduated from the United States Military academy or from the United States Naval academy, and if so where did they come from?

Three negro cadets, two from Ohio and one from Georgia, have been graduated from the United States Military academy. Two of them were graduated in 1887 and one in 1889. Three have been appointed midshipmen to the Naval academy, but none has been graduated.

What is the weight of a stone in the pyramids of Egypt and how many were there?

The Great Pyramid of Gizeh contains about 2,300,000 blocks of stone each weighing some two and a half tons each.

Our community has been rife with discussion over whether there ever was a $2 silver piece of American money issued sometime in the year of 1800. Will you give us some information.

The treasury department states there never was a $2 silver piece issued by the mints of the United States.

I would like to know if the Prince of Wales is the oldest son of the king of England and does he have other titles?

The title of Prince of Wales has been given to the eldest son of the English sovereign since the days of Edward I (1301). In addition the prince bears the titles of Duke of Cornwall, Earl of Chester, Prince and High Steward of Scotland, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Earl of Dublin.

Lyndall Street To Be Paved This Summer

State Program Here To Receive First Attention

Council in session Friday at the city hall informed a property-owner seeking to have Lyndall street paved that the thoroughfare would be paved this summer.

The city officials said that the project would not be started until the state program of improvement, Croton avenue, Grant street and Butler avenue had been completed.

It developed that last year petitions were passed and a majority in foot frontage favored paving and council approved plans and specifications, passed on ordinance and took bids on the job.

Gene Scanlon presented the low bid and the work did not materialize because the state decided that no improvements could be paid for with certificates of indebtedness.

Recently however, a decision was handed down by the Dauphin county court in which it was ruled that certificates of indebtedness were not city debts.

Today a property-owner told council that the property-owners were anxious to have the improvement made. The solons said that as soon as the state program was completed Lyndall street would be paved.

First Presbyterian Sunday School To Present Program

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.

HERE HERE: BROWN'S WILLIN' Fred L. Rentz, New Castle News.

Dear Fred—I hasten to second Her McVenny's motion for a reunion of those who attended the old Mullen town school. I have been thinking of the same thing for 10, these many moons, but was fearful of the result. Was not sure whether it would turn out to be a real reunion or a riot. So, Herbie, if she goes through don't tote that little gun of yours to the meeting.

But wouldn't it be great to get together once more. Just let our minds run back a few short years and see the boys and girls of other years come trooping to school to the chimneys of the old Mullen town school bell that always peeped forth at the wrong time. I can still see Col. DuShane or Charley Fullerton ringing that old bell. Bet the old crowd would all respond if Herbie's idea goes through. Of course, they would be there, even if they had to come in wheel chairs or on crutches. It would be great to get together and sing once more, "Let us mingle our voices in chorus today; the earth rejoices all nature is gay." Now, how many of you old Mullen towners remember that song?

Of course, we will have to have our beloved teacher, Ella McBurney. Mind how, on the first day of school, she would assemble the youngsters and then turn and write on the blackboard, "Attend to your own business." And remember how it stayed put until the last day of school? Yes, I think we could get a good crowd out for the first meeting. Hattie Sankey would be there sure. So would Billy Burrows, Frank Carson, the Tylers, Charley Lynn and George Dewberry. Then what about the Glass boys, Adda Stevens, the McClearys, the Walters, the Tuckers, the Jones girls, Grace and Bess Hannon, the Davis boys and their sister Mollie? Bet we would not know the half of them when we meet them face to face.

When that old brick school was in existence it was not the days of Nordic underwear, black narcissus perfume or chiffon hose, but rather the days of the red underwear, calico aprons and the girls wore cigar band ribbons on their pigtails. Can't you just see them yet? And were they not just the sweetest things ever. In those days the girl who would think of rouge or lipstick was classed as a naughty girl. And we all drank from the same tin cup with no thought of germs or disease, and I guess we were just as healthy as the kids are today, even with school doctors and nurses to look after them.

In reality those were asafetida days. Remember how we wore asafetida bags around our necks to ward off disease? And wasn't it smelling? But no one seemed to mind. It sure would ward off all nocking parties today. Still we did have whooping cough, measles and chickenpox just as they do today, but not one thought of advertising the fact by tacking a card to the house.

Now that the motion is seconded, go to it, Herbie. I am back of you to the finish, no matter where it might lead.

I am just one of the Brown kids, better known as C. ED.

County Music Finals To Be Held April 8

Lawrence County Prepares For Coming North Western Penna. Competition Here

Schedule For Contests In New Castle On April 25 Is Being Arranged

On Tuesday night April 8 in the Shenango High School the final con- test for Lawrence County in music and in oratory, reading, and debate will be held, according to an an- nouncement made on Friday. The winners will compete in the North Western Pennsylvania Musical Con- test to be held at the Cathedral on April 25.

The winners from this county con- test, and from the counties of Mer- cer, Venango, Butler, Crawford and Erie, will meet in the North Western Pennsylvania Sectional Contest. The contest in oratory, reading, debating, vocal solo, and piano solo, will be staged at Meadville on April 17.

Here on April 25 the sectional contest in violin, cel- lo solo, clarinet solo, flute solo, trum- pet solo and trombone solo—in string quartet, brass quartet and wood ensemble—in orchestra, band chorus, and glee club, will be held at New Castle on April 25 at the Cathedral.

The winners in these two contests will be awarded special prizes and will also be eligible to compete for the state musical honors to be held in Philadelphia, Pa., on May 10. The winners in the state affair in turn will be eligible to enter the National Contest to be staged in the latter part of May.

Music lovers from this county who have attended previous contests, know just what the contests are. Reports from the different institutions who will send representatives state that there will be some real talent as- sembled in New Castle on April 25. The winners in these contests sur- prise not only in the way of technical accomplishment but also in real en- tertaining ability. The contestants have been also providing a stimulus not only for those who take part but also for those who attend the musical events.

On the morning of April 25 the winners of the six counties and of Erie and New Castle will meet in the East Lodge Room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral to determine which school has the best violinist, cellist, clar- inetist, flutist, cornetist or trombone player in North Western Penna. The different winners will re- ceive the right to represent this section of the state in the State Musical contest in Philadelphia.

In Cathedral Auditorium
Following this contest in string quartets, brass quartets and wood wind ensembles will vie for the same honors as the contest preceding. At the same time the choruses and glee clubs from the smaller high schools will be competing for honors in the auditorium of the Cathedral. In the afternoon the orchestra and bands from the smaller institutions will compete in the auditorium while the junior high school choruses and glee clubs from the local junior high schools and visiting schools will hold their contest in the East Lodge room of the Cathedral.

The choruses and glee clubs from the senior high and other high schools will compete in the auditorium of the senior high school. Im- mediately following this contest the junior high school orchestra and bands will contest in the auditorium of the high school. In the evening the senior high school orchestra and band will compete with those of Erie and Grove City in the auditorium of the Cathedral.

Over twenty five schools
Over 2,500 students from some 25 or 30 schools of this section will be in New Castle on April 25 for the musical contest. Over 70 will be taking part. Some of the prizes to be given include 30 beautiful bronze plaques to the winning members of bands or- chestra, choruses and glee clubs, and some 25 or 30 gold and silver pins given to the winners in the solo and ensemble events.

Elaborate preparations are being made for this contest by the officials of the senior high school in charge. Last year this contest was held in Erie and at a meeting in January it was decided that New Castle would be the host city for the contest this year. Only by being present on April 25 can the people of New Castle make the visitors of different cities feel comfortable and welcomed.

The different faculty members of the senior high school who are in charge of the musical organization are busily engaged rehearsing daily and the local people can feel sure that New Castle will have a good re- presentative in the contest.

Seven Designated To Arrange Suitable Dedication Ceremony

HARRISBURG, March 29—Under the authority granted by an act of Legislature Governor John S. Fisher, today designated seven persons to ar- range a suitable dedication of the statues of Governor Andrew G. Cur- tin and General John S. Parke, erect- ed in the Vicksburg Military Park, at Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Captain C. T. Fryberger, Philadel- phia, will represent the 45th regim- ent, Pennsylvania Volunteers, Geo. F. Moran, Pottsville, the 50th Regi- ment and Captain John W. Morrison, Wayne, the 100th.

The act specified that representa- tives of the 51st Regiment, Pennsylv- ania Volunteers and Durrell's Bat- tery also should be named to the commission. None of either unit was able to accept an appointment to the commission.

In addition to the Civil War Vet- erans the Governor named Richard S. Quigley, Lock Haven, to represent the Senate; Aaron B. Hess, Lancaster, to represent the house and John L. Holmes, of State College.

Reserve Officers Meet On April 10

Will Resume Meetings After Several Months Without Meeting

Shenango Valley Chapter, Reserve Officers Association, will meet Thurs- day, April 10 in the Elk's Home after several months during which no meet- ings have been held.

The speaker in the evening will be Captain William H. Moore, of the Quartermaster's Corps of the 99th Di- vision with headquarters in Pitts- burgh. He will have something of interest to tell.

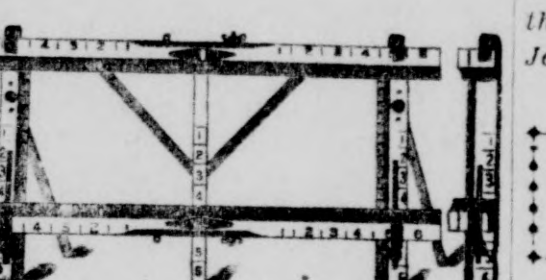

The affair will be a dinner meeting, starting at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of April 10 and special efforts are to be made to have every member of the chapter in attendance.

Landed In Tree, Autoist Escapes In 290 Foot Drop

WHEELING, W. Va., March 29.—Andrew Kain, 31, was unhurt when he alighted in the branches of a tree after being thrown from an automo- bile that skidded and broke through a fence and rolled 290 feet down an almost perpendicular precipice known as McCulloch's Leap.

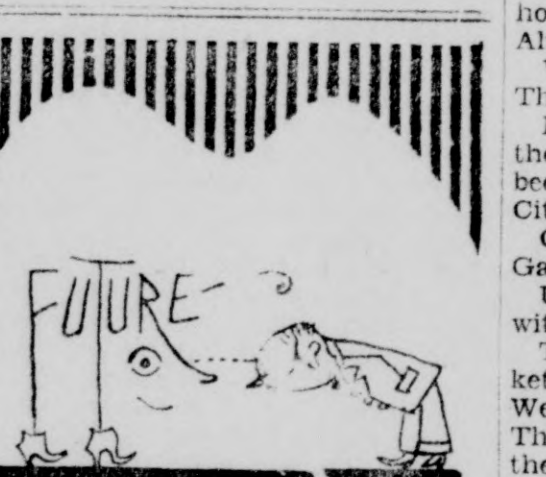

James Johnson, with Kain in the car, suffered serious hurts. McCulloch's leap gained fame dur- ing the Revolution when Major Sam- uel McCulloch, attached to Fort Hen- ry, leaped his horse over the cliff to escape from a party of Indians. Fort Henry was on the present site of Wheeling.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon and was called to order by the speak- er.

The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the fol- lowing prayer:

In the parting of the curtains of the night, Heavenly Father, and in the dawning of this day, Thou hast revealed Thyself anew. We seek Thy guidance. O give us this blessing. We do not pray for ease and rest but for powers equal to our tasks. Let not our failure dishearten us or any cause of delay chill us. We ask for Thy presence, and, for unutterable thoughts to rise within us. For life and love and for light, we thank Thee, gracious Lord, and for all the great world with its infinitely many sources of truth and hope. Thou wilt never leave us, but will go with us all the way. May we scatter our flowers as we go, for we will never pass this way again. In the holy name of Jesus we pray. Amen.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, March 29.—A gen- eral warm wave is expected preced- ing and during passage of moderate storm center expected to cross con- tinent during week centering on Mar. 30; above normal precipitation is ex- pected to continue to be general over continent during this storm wave and until about April 14, after which date a general decrease and more uneven distribution of precipitation will be expected to take place. Least pre- cipitation during the last days of March and all of April will be ex- pected in western Great Central valleys, but storm waves centering on March 30, moderate severe storm wave centering on April 4 and moderate storms centering on April 10 and 19 will be expected to cause moderate precipitation in this area. The most important condition, relative to spring planting season, is the lack of sub- soil moisture in central and western spring wheat belt, both Canada and U. S. Expecting high, rolling ground, from which snows have been nearly all blown, a slow melting of snow and ice will remedy this condition somewhat. Northern cold wave, ex- pected to follow storm center of March 30, will move a little further south than usual, but will not be expected to do any great damage.

First half of April will average be- low normal temperatures, above nor- mal precipitation and above normal storm force generally over the con- tinent; last half of month will av- erage above normal temperatures and precipitation, with decreasing pre- cipitation, and below normal storm force. Principal storm force of month expected during moderately severe storms centering on 4 and moderate storms centering on 10. Moderate storms centering on 19 and mild storms centering on 26 will both be preceded by general warm waves. A moderate increase in precipitation will be expected on central and north Pacific slope during the month, but will only be temporary. Ten days centering on 15 expected to bring se- vere local storms to southwest and west Great Central valleys and high winds will be probable in this area during this period. Precipitation dur- ing March and first half of April was expected to furnish ample moisture for spring work in western spring wheat belt of both Canada and U. S. A partial eclipse of the Moon oc- curs April 13 centering at 3 hours, 4 minutes and 40.8 second Greenwich

Civil time, visible from all points of North America. Reduced to local standard time this will occur near 12:00 p. m. at points using Eastern, 11:00 p. m. at points using Central, 10:00 p. m. at points using Mountain and at 9:00 p. m. at points using Pacific standard time. This time will be April 12 in North America. An eclipse of the Moon can only oc- cur when the Earth passes between the Sun and Moon, full Moon, at a time when the Moon is near the ecliptic or latitude on the Earth where the Sun is directly overhead. When the Moon crosses the plane of the eclip- tic, it is said to be at its node. Minerva is urged as the name of the new planet, this being the only Greek goddess without a celestial namesake. School Contests At Mt. Jackson

Four Hundred School Musicians Take Part In Competition

SEVERAL SCHOOLS DIVIDE HONORS

The sixth Lawrence County Music and Literary league contest was held last evening at Mt. Jackson. Contests in boys and girls choruses, mixed chorus and orchestra were judged. Over 400 students participated in these contests.

The afternoon contests were in chorus work. The judges were Prof. J. C. Selzer, Marian E. Gerbrich and Mabel S. Eichler, all from Slippery Rock State Teachers college.

In the boys chorus, Mt. Jackson won, Shenango was second and Bessemer third. The winning chorus was composed of 32 voices under the direction of Prof. McCulloch. The chorus was well rounded and had very good voices in either bass or tenor.

In the girls chorus, Bessemer won first, Shenango was second and tied with Mt. Jackson. The winning chorus was under the direction of Miss Mary Smith and was composed of 24 voices. Several of the girls had exceptional voices, two very good sopranos being in the chorus as well as having a strong alto section. It was an excellent group of singers.

The mixed chorus was contested between Mt. Jackson and Bessemer and the former won. There were 63 voices in the chorus and all were dressed in uniform, the boys wearing blue suits with the customary black tie, and the girls were in white with a black tie. They were well arranged on the stage and presented a very good appearance. They were under the direction of Prof. McCulloch.

Dinner was served to over 300 students from other high schools by the domestic science class of Mt. Jackson. The class was newly organized in November and this was their first attempt to serve meals. In all, they gave a creditable performance.

During the evening program the winners of the afternoon were given a chance to sing before a record crowd. It was estimated that there was over a thousand in the auditorium. The first number was given by the Bessemer girls chorus, then the Mt. Jackson boys chorus sang, followed by the two mixed choruses, Bessemer and Mt. Jackson.

The contest for the evening performance was in orchestra with four schools entered. Orchestras from Mt. Jackson, Shenango, Union and Bessemer played in the order named. The judges were Eldon C. Murray, Dorothy Kirkbride and Elizabeth H. Rose of the music faculty of Westminster college.

The winners of the orchestra contest were Shenango first, Bessemer second, Union third and Mt. Jackson fourth. The winners had an orchestra composed of 25 pieces, under the direction of Charles G. Lindner. Several of the members of the winning orchestra have not taken many lessons, two of the number starting last September. They were excellent and had a very capable leader.

eral of the members of the winning orchestra have not taken many lessons, two of the number starting last September. They were excellent and had a very capable leader.

As a feature number on the program the combined orchestras of Plaingrove and Princeton high schools under the direction of Mr. Acker, played at the close of the regular program. The combined orchestras had 118 pieces in them and completely filled the stage in the Mt. Jackson auditorium. These orchestras, coming from the smaller class of high schools in the county, and composed of students from the sixth grade to high school seniors, were exceptionally good. For so large a number of musicians to play under the direction of one person, having never practiced together previous to this performance, was a very great success.

The concert was well attended, there being over 500 present in the afternoon and over 1,000 in the evening. The auditorium was packed as well as many standing. Competing students were kept in their rooms for lack of space in the evening.

One more contest remains on the list for this year. A final contest in vocal, piano, violin, oration and reading will be held at Shenango on April 8. If that contest is as well attended as the last one, the season's contests have been a big success throughout the county.

Sons Of Veterans Meet On Friday

An interesting meeting of Oscar L. Jackson Camp, Sons of Union Veterans, was held Friday evening in the Sons of Union Veterans Hall in the city building.

A number of matters of importance were considered. Reports received concerning the state encampment of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations to be held here in June were most encouraging and there is every reason to expect that it will be one of the best state encampments ever held in the state.

SCHOOL NOTES

The honor roll for the period ending on March 14, has been finished and eleven in the high school have an average above ninety percent. The seniors have three, Eleanor Adams, Genevieve McFarland and Frank Goff. The Juniors have only three on their roll, Ruth Adams, Evelyn Osborne and Hilda Burdette. The Sophomore class has only one honor student, Lenora McQuiston. Freshmen have four, Edith Hoover, Lois Anderson, Thelma Dengler and Lois McGill.

The Junior class have selected a play for this year. It will be given early in May. The title is "When a Feller Needs a Friend."

Request for the return of the "Phairie Rose," given by the Dramatic club for athletic benefits, has been asked by many people. Because of the condition of the roads on the evening it was given, many were unable to attend. It will be presented again on Friday, April 5.

MALNUTRITION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN—ITS CAUSES AND EFFECTS.

By New Castle Public School Health Department.

Article III.

Malnutrition in infants and young children of the pre-school age has long been recognized and studied for a long time and it is now handled by parents quite rationally. The incidence and significance of malnutrition in children of the school age on the other hand have been known and studied only during quite recent years.

The main and precipitating cause of malnutrition is food which is insufficient in quantity, inadequate in quality or improperly assimilated. There are a number of secondary causes all of which bear definitely on the primary cause. They may be discussed as follows:

Insufficient Food—A definite number of children of the poorer classes are undernourished because of an insufficient amount of food. This is a welfare problem and must be handled as such, also if for any reason a child has a poor appetite, he also may have an insufficiency of food.

Inadequate Food—This represents the unbalanced diet. The food may be of sufficient quantity but of the wrong quality. The most frequent unbalance is a diet too high in carbohydrates and insufficient in protein and vitamins or in other words too much sugar and starch and not enough meat, eggs, milk, cheese and green vegetables.

Faulty Food Habits—This is one of the most important causes of malnutrition in older children. The children are often given or allowed an excessive amount of sweets, either by having too much sugar added to all food to such an extent that they will eventually take only food that has been sweetened or by allowing them to eat large amounts of candy between meals. Irregular meal hours, meals hurried through by the child to get out to play or to reach school on time, and eating between meals are also injurious habits frequently found.

Faulty Health Habits—Second only to faulty food habits are faulty health habits. These include insufficient sleep at night, the lack of a regular rest period during the day, neglect of a daily evacuation of the bowels and lack of fresh air while sleeping. They all help to impair the child's appetite and impair the assimilation of the food.

Physical Defects—Many physical defects bear directly on the state of nutrition. Decayed teeth, usually painful, prevent proper mastication of food and in many cases cause a bad breath which impairs the appetite. Diseased tonsils furnish a constant supply of toxin absorbed by the body which prevents the proper digestion of food. Exuberant tissue, kidney infections and middle ear discharges are also physical defects which with many others are causes of improper nutrition.

Home Conditions—This is of utmost importance. That "as the home is conducted so the child conducts itself" is an almost invariable observation. Lack of home control and failure of the parents to realize the importance of food as a nutritional substance are causes which must be corrected as well as the causes that lie within the child himself.

The effects of malnutrition on children of school age are somewhat different than the effect on the infant or pre-school child. They may also be outlined in definite subjects.

Underweight—Probably the most constant and easily recognized manifestation of a state of malnutrition is a disproportion between the height and weight of the child. A normal ratio between height, weight and age is used to judge the amount of this under-weight or over-weight and 10% below or 20% above this is considered a malnutrition case.

Fatigue—Probably next to underweight fatigue is the most noticeable effect or symptom. The child tires easily. This is manifested both in play and in the classroom. There may be a disinclination toward exertion or an early exhaustion after exertion. Rest is very necessary for these children.

Irritability and Mental Symptoms—Irritability and mental retardation are also effects of malnutrition. The majority of children who are malnourished are very irritable and cross, so much so that other children notice it and are displeased with them. Statistics have definitely shown that a large percentage of them are retarded as to their school work.

Posture—These cases may usually be recognized by their general appearance. The freshness of vigorous youth is lacking. They are haggard and have an anxious even furtive look and are timid. Due to the anemia they acquire, they usually have a pallid look. Their posture is extremely poor. The loss of muscle volume and tone causes this and the typical "fatigue" posture is evident.

All of the elementary school children in New Castle are weighed and measured four times a year. Their height, weight and age are compared with normals and if they are 10% or more under the normal they are considered malnutrition cases. The parents are notified of this and are given a typical diet sheet.

Another important means as a prevention against malnutrition is the work of our hygiene teachers. The children are taught from the first grade through the twelfth grade what the proper foods are and why they should eat them. We realize that the child can do little as to his own diet in many cases, but we are hoping that by teaching them what foods prevent malnutrition that they will be our means of preventing it in the next generation, as well as to do what they can to prevent it in themselves.

Would Check Up On School Busses In Pennsylvania

State Motor Federation Head Believes Many Busses Are Unsafe For Use

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 29.—A statewide checkup of school busses was recommended today by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, State unit of the American Automobile Association, as a means of safeguarding the thousands of children in rural districts who are transported to and from their homes daily in conveyances provided by the district officials.

"A majority of these busses, I believe, are modern and safe," said S. Edward Gable, president of the Federation, "but each and every one should be of that type. Use of improvised busses with antiquated bodies, home made ramshackle affairs such as are operated in certain districts to convey children to and from school, should be prohibited.

Modern and safe busses, equipped with proper safety devices and operated by competent drivers, are just as important as up-to-date and sanitary school buildings in charge of competent teachers. Just as a fire-trap type of building is condemned for school use so a bus that is not properly protected and equipped should be banned. It is just as important to safeguard the lives of children on the highways, where danger is ever present, as it is to protect the youngsters in and around the school buildings."

"Pennsylvania should not wait until a catastrophe such as that at Berea, Ohio, occurs within the borders of this State, but should see to it now that a checkup on school bus conditions is made. In many rural districts schools will soon be closing, but now is the time to begin providing safeguards for the term that opens in the late summer or early fall."

A WISE MOTOR CAR INVESTMENT

Consider a few of the basic facts that make the new Chevrolet Six such a thoroughly sound investment.

It offers a great six-cylinder valve-in-head engine, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower . . . assuring the smooth, quiet, resilient performance which is so essential in a modern automobile.

It offers the all-weather braking efficiency of internal-expanding, completely enclosed, 4-wheel brakes—big, powerful, quiet and extremely easy to apply.

It offers the modern riding comfort of four long semi-elliptic, chrome-vanadium steel springs—under the cushioned control of Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.

It offers the greater beauty, comfort and safety of bodies by Fisher—built of selected hardwood and steel . . . providing thousands upon thousands of miles of quiet, care-free service.

It offers scores of individual features that contribute to the pleasure and convenience of present-day motoring—

—a new Fisher VV non-glare windshield; foot-controlled, twin-beam headlamps; adjustable driver's seat in all closed models; dash gasoline gauge; and safety gasoline tank, located in the rear of the car.

With all these important advancements—coupled with greatly reduced prices for the entire Chevrolet line—it is only logical that thousands are saying every day—"The New Chevrolet Six is a wise motor car investment!"

A SIX IN THE PRICE RANGE OF THE FOUR

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, March 29.—Ganna Walska, the operatic killyloo bird, has developed a perfume at $400 a bottle that she says "breathes the light clover aroma that hints of morning dew in a hayfield."

I may be prejudiced, but I don't think Walska the Wonderful knows any more about morning dew in a hayfield, than I know about the hieroglyphics on a Babylonian brick.

SPRING
I walked across Fourteenth Street the other evening in quest of a flower shop and weary blocks I tramped without success. There were plenty of nickel shows, penny arcades, cheap vaudeville houses, one-arm lunch joints, collar shops "selling out," trinket and junk holes in the wall, and orange juice stalls; but never the sign of a florist; and I said to myself: "Romance sure has curled up and died on the old Roo de Fourteen."

But over near Second Avenue I encountered a bud and bloom shop within the circumscribed precincts of which Romance was flourishing pink-cheeked and saucy as ever.

A tall young man, with Romeo-like abstraction, dragged from his pocket a twenty-dollar bill to pay for a dozen blood-red roses sheathed in tissue.

And when he had gone, and the flower man had solicitously wrapped my jonquils, a young woman entered—the florist's sweetheart, for whom he had prepared, and to whom he tendered a corsage of lilies of the valley and pink sweet peas, confined with a peach-hued ribbon.

The three of us left the shop together. And where do you think the florist and his lady love were headed? For the Flower Show—so help me, Bob!

ALL TOO HUMAN.
There's a Ritzy little perfume shop on the sunlit fringe of Luxury Lane. It's one of those oppressively swank, silver-leaf, ultra, charlotte russe million-dollar dumps, "all steel and angles," presided over by a superbly disdainful blonde, who carries her nose at an upward angle that would induce the belief that she was wearing a necklace of limburger chips.

And down Luxury Lane the other afternoon trudged a little Wop with a basket of apples on his arm. He wore the easy air of camaraderie that used to distinguish the late Enrico Caruso—as a matter of fact, he looked a whole lot like a weather-beaten edition of Caruso.

The afternoon was gold and blue and sparkling. Spring was 'round the corner and something of her vibrant mood was reflected in the smile that wreathed the apple vendor's wholesome face.

And what do you think that fool Wop was doing? Actually making a shop to shop canvas along Luxury Lane peddling his apples.

It was one of those wild, unbelievable, hysterical, fairy-tale situations. Never anything like it had happened on Luxury Lane and I paused beside the window of an adjacent jewel shop to see what would happen when the T-empter of Fate in his wide-blocked mackinaw encountered Diana the Disdainful in the cologne corral.

Down the street he trudged, into the scent shop he floundered and what do you think happened? Diana bought an apple!

DEAR OLD BARNUM

An enterprising shoe dealer on the Roo de la Quince specializes in foot wear to order.

Melady gets a nut idea about shoes. She chug-chugs across to the pedal parlor, unfolds her thought to an artist squatting before an easel—and intuitive chap, who reduces the idea to a sketch in charcoal.

Melady acquints at the drawing. It is changed in detail, here and there, at her suggestion and when it perfectly fits the thought she had in mind, a designer is summoned.

Like the artist, the designer is a man of tact and perfect poise. By imperceptible stages, employing the foxiest of psychological processes he gets Melady to recede in one or two essentials, from her original wild and preposterous conception. And finally, when the design has been revamped until it falls within the possibilities of manufacture, Melady trips forth with a happy heart convinced that she has supplied the shoe trade with an idea that eventually will revolutionize it.

And the poor artist and the designer, taking a fresh grip on themselves, enter the list with another patron.

Verily I say unto thee, Brother Barnum sure had the right dope!

Buddy Poppy Sale Opened

President Hoover Receives First Emblem From Daughter Of Deceased Veteran

Official endorsement of the annual nation-wide distribution of buddy poppies, made by disabled veterans under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was given by President Hoover on Wednesday, when he was presented with the first V. F. W. buddy poppy at the White House.

The emblem was presented to President Hoover by little Lois Jane Allen, aged 5, whose daddy served with the 310th Engineers in far off Russia during the World War. Lois, with her sister and brother, is a protegee of the national home for widows and orphans of deceased veterans, which is maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Barney Allen, her father, survived the rigors of the Russian expedition, but was killed in an auto accident, and the three small children were placed in the Eaton Rapids home.

Little Lois Allen was accompanied to the White House by Hezekiah N. Duff of Lansing, Mich., national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and other V. F. W. officials.

The annual sale of buddy poppies in New Castle will be held on the Saturday nearest Memorial Day, and the money derived from the sale of poppies will be used for welfare work by the McBride post. A certain percentage of the money derived from the sale of the poppies goes to the disabled men who have made them in the U. S. Veterans hospitals in Pennsylvania.

Get Rich Artist Refused New Trial

Sharon Man Who Passed Worthless Checks For Stocks Must Take Sentence

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 29.—C. A. Helfren of Sharon, tried at the January sessions of 1929 on the charge of passing worthless checks has been refused a new trial in an opinion filed today by Judge J. A. McLaughry who ruled on three points presented by Helfren's attorneys for a re-hearing.

Helfren gave two checks of $12,500 and $15,000 in a stock deal during the frenzied finance days of the stock market. The checks were given to Morris and Townsend of New York.

His plan was to sell the stock and make the checks good.

SUES OVER CRASH

Edna Billing of Sharon sues the Kenna Transfer Company for $5,000 as the result of an accident of September 7th, 1929 on Hall avenue in Sharon.

It is claimed that the truck crashed into the lighter car seriously injuring the plaintiff who has been a sufferer from the results of the accident ever since.

SUE ON NOTE

The North Carolina Bank and Trust company sue Morris Bensley of Sharon for the sum of $3,550 by virtue of legal documents filed today.

Bensley it is alleged is one of the endorsers of a note that is payable to the bank for this amount.

Sheriff Dan Callahan further reduced his jail population of 75 by taking a car load to the workhouse and Morgana.

FIRE VICTIM ILL

Miss Jennie Alexander was taken to the hospital last evening suffering from pneumonia. Miss Alexander is quite ill. The attack the result of exposure and inhaling smoke Thursday morning when she discovered her apartment in the Elliott block to be afire.

REFUSED NEW TRIAL

Judge J. A. McLaughry has just signed an order refusing a new trial to Sam Matkovich who was found guilty of an attempt to intimidate a witness at the April sessions of 1928. The attempt took place during the trial of Frank Petros on a liquor charge which Matkovich is alleged to have told Frank Kravich, most important witness of the commonwealth that they would get him when Frankovich refused to run when asked to do so by Matkovich.

Matkovich is a notorious character it is alleged by the police.

SETS DATE FOR ANSWER

Judge J. A. McLaughry has set the first Monday of April the date of April 7th on which the county officials must make file answer to the petition of the county baristers who ask of the court an order on them requiring a change in the present office hours.

From present indications it is likely that each official will file his or her own answer to this rule asked by the attorneys.

The rule is asked as the result of a meeting of the baristers held in January when the matter was discussed at the meeting of the Bar association of the county.

PETITIONS FOR HEARING

Dr. I. N. Colton of Leesburg has asked the court to re-open the Glalloway road proceedings terminated recently when an order was signed annulling the use of the road following an inspection of viewers.

The road is located in Springfield township and was contiguous to the Perry Highway. The doctor whose property will be taken in this change. The matter will come up on hearing at a nearby date.

TO DEFEND YOUTHS

Judge J. A. McLaughry today appointed W. J. Whieldon, Mercer attorney to defend the two Farrell youths held for the murder of Frank Di Silvio. The two, Frank Yawosky and Joe Mihalein will be tried for murder at the April term. They have confessed and are stated by Dr. W. W. Richardson to be sane which places them in a dangerous relationship to the chair.

In all probability there will be an afternoon meeting in East Brook, the same day. This meeting will be announced later.

Dry Advocates In Australia Beaten

(International News Service) LONDON, March 29.—Dry advocates in Australia have been hopelessly defeated in the prohibition referendum conducted throughout the province of Victoria, according to dispatches from Melbourne today.

A count of 75 per cent of the votes cast shows that the prohibitionists have been overwhelmed, a Central news dispatch declared.

The dries had waged a strenuous campaign, and sent the voters to the polls with messages of encouragement from Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison. A three-fourths majority would have been necessary to carry the measure.

Davis Will Stick In Senate Fight

Secretary James J. Davis, In Pittsburgh Today Denies Rumor He Will Quit Race

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 29.—James J. Davis, United States Secretary of Labor, arrived here today to confer with his supporters and to sign petitions which were to place him in nomination for United States Senator.

Secretary Davis promptly spiked a report that Joseph R. Grundy might effect a deal with Philadelphia politicians to have Davis withdraw and permit a harmonious ticket, headed by "Uncle Joe" and with Francis Shunk Brown, Davis's running mate for governor, seek election together.

"I am not going to quit, nor is anyone with authority going to ask me to do so. That time has passed. Why should I withdraw, with the outlook so favorable? I went into this fight with the intention of staying in it and I'll be there when the polls close on primary day," Davis stated emphatically.

Brown, his running mate, and "spokesman" Charles B. Hall of Philadelphia were equally emphatic in asserting there would be no changes in the Davis-Brown slate.

FIVE HUNDRED AT "Y" INDOOR SHOW

Opens This Afternoon For Run Till 10 P. M.; Side Shows Draw Crowd

With the side-show artists and booth hawkers at their best, the annual indoor circus of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. entered its second day of showing at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. The circus will continue until 10 o'clock tonight.

Five hundred boys and parents enjoyed the opening program last night, three different side-show performances operating for capacity crowds. Boys of the Ben Franklin Hi-Y club, the Fred Washington club and the Fred Rents Newsboys each sponsored one.

Magicians are performing their sleight-of-hand tricks, minstrel bands singing songs, wild west bandits staging daring holdups and a score of other acts of entertainment are going through their rounds this afternoon. There will be additional showings tonight.

Boys' Work Secretary W. A. Thomas is in general charge with Daniel Riccioppo, Tex Rickard, Lyman Thomas, Homer Rosser, Ed Fritz, Jr., Bob Gwin and others assisting.

Fireman Dies Of His Injuries In Freight Wreck

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Arthur Robinson, the Jersey City fireman of the ill-fated Pennsylvania railroad locomotive which overturned in a wreck of 14 freight cars at the Frankford junction here early today, died shortly before noon of his injuries.

It is feared, John P. Hagan, the engineer, of the wrecked train also will die. Several other persons were reported cut and bruised in the accident.

Following the death of Robinson the county coroner's office announced a thorough investigation would be made as reports became current that carelessness caused the tragedy.

Deputy Coroner Arthur Collins declared he had heard that open switch which is believed to have caused the wreck had been left open through carelessness. He intimated that if he found such to be the case he would cause the arrest of the employees responsible.

Local Labor To Get Preference

Contractor Who Gets Repaving Job Asked To Favor Local Labor

Although city council is bound by law to accept the lowest bid from a responsible contractor, it is reported that should the contract for the repaving of Croton avenue, Grant street and Butler avenue go to a contractor other than from New Castle, council will ask that local labor be employed. According to city engineers, this phase has been broached to contractors who have stated their willingness to abide by the opinion that employment as much as possible be given to local citizens.

Lottery Winners Are Out Of Luck

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 29.—Many of Pittsburgh's smalltime speculators, indulgers in the Clearing House Pool Lottery, may wait in vain for their winnings following the seizure of ten thousand tickets here today.

County policemen today stopped the car of Ness Feelo on the outskirts of this city and took the tickets from him as they were being conveyed to Pittsburgh in a steel-covered case. Feelo alleged that thousands of dollars had been collected on the tickets which did not reach headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The tickets included some for Pay-letts and Greene counties.

Antique Exhibit Draws Many To Rose Avenue

Had George Washington, Commodore Perry, Benjamin Franklin or in fact any other great American which the time-worn history books record, returned last night and visited the "antique museum" at the Rose Avenue Elementary school, they would have felt perfectly at home.

And rightly so for the exhibit, sponsored by the school's Parent-Teacher association as a side feature to its annual St. Patrick's social, had in it at least one thing with which each had some connection.

There was the horseshoe worn by the horse upon which General Washington rode when his forces captured Fort Duquesne in 1758; a spike from Perry's flagship, and a copy of the Philadelphia "Public Ledger" published on Friday, March 25, 1836 by Benjamin Franklin. These and a hundred and one other things, part of them curious from foreign countries, drew considerable attention.

Under the direction of faculty teachers a most interesting exhibition was arranged and everything marked with a tag fully describing it. Hundreds of parents and children inspected it. Words could hardly describe the entire exhibition but a list of but a few of the articles on display would convey a good idea.

Tech Student Held For Manslaughter

Walter O. Krebs, 24, Carnegie Tech Student Held For Court By Grand Jury

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 29.—Walter O. Krebs, 24, was today held for action of the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter here.

Krebs, a student at Carnegie Tech, was held by a coroner's jury in connection with the fatal shooting of Newell Gibson, 24, Tech instructor, at his home on March 8.

The defendant admitted on the witness stand that he, with Gibson and Eustis Bane, 24, a Pitt law student, had been drinking the night before and the morning of the shooting. He maintained the pistol had gone off accidentally as Gibson was inspecting it.

Other witnesses said Krebs and Gibson were both intoxicated, while Coroner W. J. McGregor instructed the jury in his charge that if they found the men were intoxicated while handling the gun to hold the defendant for manslaughter.

City detective Thomas Donohue read Gibson's deathbed statement in which he had declared the shooting was an accident.

Among other witnesses were three young women who were at the place of the shooting but left before it took place. They were Anna Gozon, Mary Garner and Janet Kretz.

Plan To Install New Cherry Street Lights

Revamping of the Cherry street curb-lighting system will commence next week, according to Louis Round, superintendent, New Castle district of the P.-O. Power system. Material has arrived for the Long avenue system and it is anticipated that within a month the entire revamping, including the Washington street system will have been completed.

The company will install 600 candlepower lights after removing 400 candlepower lights in Cherry street and Long avenue. One thousand candlepower lights will replace the 600 candlepower lights in Washington street.

A splendid program was given in the gymnasium. Louis Hazen gave several piano solos and Clarence Davis and Karl Keuchler entertained the audience as magicians. Mrs. Carl Turner accompanied them on the piano. Miss Betty Cope gave a reading "My Ma and Pa are Methodists," and Miss Francis Cope read "The Peddler's Caravan." A health playlet was given by the pupils of the school under the direction of Miss Genevieve Schugars entitled "Kings of the Parly Mountains." Characters: King—Bobby McCann, Children, Betty Evans, Willis Bates; Milk Bottle Men, Louis Walls, John Fisher, Bobby Rape, Billie Ashton, Bobby McCowan, Ned Davenport, Charles Fazzano, Dick Thompson, Alfred Hook, Albert Theophilus; Carrot, Billie Wright; Tomato, Dick Wilkinson; Potato, Jack Mortimer; Celery, Eleanor Cook, Lettuce, Marjory Harris; Bread, Evelyn Thomas; Apple, Belle Jenkins; Orange, Bob Thompson; Toothbrush Guards: Clifford Stoner, Robert Carson.

A candy sale was conducted with Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Wilbert Hughes, Mrs. Oliver Hazen, Mrs. Thomas Richards, Mrs. A. Hulbert, Miss Betty Mackey and Miss Ruth Noble.

Shamrocks were sold which were exchanged at the shamrock table for gifts. Mrs. Ed Davenport was chairman of this committee and had as her aids, Mrs. James Lawton and Mrs. G. H. Colnot. A hat donated by the Annabelle Smith shop, and a mesh bag donated by Jack Gerson were auctioned.

At another booth, ice cream was sold by Mrs. Carl Turner and Miss Morfy Owens. At another, pop was sold by G. Wilfred Thomas and M. R. Bates. The hot dog stand was in charge of Mrs. Albert Theophilus, Mrs. R. B. McCowan and Mrs. D. C. Brown. A merry-go-round was run for the kiddies. Miss Doris Davidson, Miss Elsa Ashmore and Miss Jean Fisher were in charge of this.

In charge of the fish pond were Mrs. Clarence Davis, Mrs. J. E. Ryan, Mrs. C. R. Brenner, Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. Bernard Hook, Miss Mildred Smith and Miss Verlee Armstrong.

A very interesting antique museum was in charge of Miss Laura M. Blucher, Miss Anna Cox and Miss Genevieve Schugars.

Glass Companies Announce Merger

(International News Service) TOLEDO, March 29.—An announcement was made here today of the merger of the properties of the Edward Ford Plate Glass Company and the Libby-Owens Glass Company, the world's largest sheet glass manufacturing concerns, involving $65,000,000 in securities.

The new combined organization will be known as the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Company. The two interests operate major plants in Detroit and Toledo and nine plants in Europe.

ONLY A BELIEF

The very condescending matinee idol was making a tour of the backstage staff.

"And what, my man, is your vocation?" he asked of a hard-working scene-shifter.

"I'm a Baptist," returned the other readily.

"No, no, my good fellow," laughed the actor, "that is only your belief. I asked for your vocation."

"But I don't get you, guv'nor," replied the scene-shifter, looking rather puzzled.

"Well, for example," explained the actor, "I am an actor. That is my vocation."

"Oh, no, sir," retorted the other: "that is your belief."—Answers, London.

Trading Is Heavy In Stocks Today

Biggest And Most Active Saturday Market Of Year—Sales Are Rather Heavy

(BULLETIN) By W. S. COUSINS International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 29.—In the biggest and most active Saturday session of the year, with sales volume for the two hours of 2,786,000 shares, sharp advances were scored today by the blue-chip industrial which have been in the speculative limelight for the past six weeks.

A powerful buying wave rolled in from all sections of the country in response to the brilliant performances of the market and the increasing evidences of business and industrial recovery. These are presented in the weekly surveys of Dunn's, Bradstreet's and the banking houses, which also derived considerable satisfaction from the firming up of commodity prices.

The blue-chip market, ahead for a new gain of 6 1-2 points and closed at 263 3-4. United States Steel closed at 193 1-2, up 3 5-8; Westinghouse at 190 1-2, up 4; General Electric at 86, up 2 7-8 and Radio at 53 1-2, up 2 1-2.

The rally contributed their quota to the buoyancy of the short session. United Pacific closed nearly 5 points higher, at 242 3-4; New York Central up about a point at 190; Baltimore and Ohio up at 121 3-4; Missouri-Kansas-Texas up 2 at 64 1-2. Public Utility, oil, motor and copper stocks were comparatively quiet. Vanadium Steel lost 6 points in the late trading, but closed the week 4 points above last Saturday.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

America In The 20th Century
The Day Of The Automobile

AT THE BEGINNING OF THE 20TH CENTURY A CONTINUAL ROUND OF RACING MEETS AND LONG DISTANCE TOURS STIMULATED THE INTEREST OF THE PUBLIC IN THE NEW AUTOMOBILES. ASSOCIATED WITH THE EARLY DEVELOPMENT OF THE MOTORCAR IN AMERICA ARE THE NAMES OF MAYNES, FORD, OLDS, DURYEA, WINTON AND STANLEY.

IN 1900 THE FIRST AUTO SHOW WAS HELD IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN IN NEW YORK CITY. MOST OF THE FIRST MODELS WERE BEYOND THE REACH OF THE AVERAGE CITIZEN. IN 1901 THE FIRST LOW-PRICED CAR, A ONE-CYLINDER OLDSMOBILE, WAS PRODUCED. OTHER MANUFACTURERS FOLLOWED SUIT, AND THE PUBLIC DEMAND FOR MOTORCARS INCREASED BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS.

AN EARLY LIMOUSINE

THE AUTOMOBILE WAS LOOKED UPON AS A CURIOUS AND RATHER DANGEROUS NOVELTY FOR A LONG WHILE. TIME HAS BROUGHT MANY CHANGES AND IMPROVEMENTS TO ITS MECHANISM AND APPEARANCE—THE LOW-SLUNG BODY WITH ITS GRACEFUL LINES, ELECTRIC LIGHTS AND SELF-STARTER, INCREASED POWER, SPEED AND COMFORT ARE JUST A FEW.

IN 1896 THERE WERE LESS THAN A THOUSAND AUTOMOBILES IN THE UNITED STATES. TODAY THERE ARE ENOUGH TO TAKE OUR ENTIRE POPULATION FOR A RIDE AT THE SAME TIME. IN 1925 THE MANUFACTURE OF AUTOMOBILES BECAME OUR LEADING INDUSTRY, THE UNITED STATES PRODUCING MORE THAN 87 PERCENT OF THE CARS USED IN THE WORLD. THE AUTO HAS BROUGHT GOOD ROADS WHICH HAVE OPENED UP COUNTLESS HITHERTO INACCESSIBLE LOCALITIES.

Christians Win Over Temples In First Series Go

Central Christians Defeat Temple Israel Team 29 To 13 In First Game For Title

E. BAUMAN-VAGO STARS OF BATTLE

The Central Christians have one leg up on the New Castle Church League championship today, following their sensational upset of the Temple Israel team at the "Y" on Friday night. It was the first game of a three game series for the title in the church circuit. The Christians won with apparent ease which can be termed a startling upset of the dope bucket. The final score was 29 to 13.

At the end of the first half the Christians led by Vago with three baskets had the score doubled on their opponents at 16 to 8. The Temples had difficulty in locating the hoops and also in getting around the two Christian guards Paulini and Cowmeadow. The Temples only had three field goals the first half, against seven for the Evans coached combination.

Christians Look Good

The Christians continued their fine play in the second half to win the session 29 to 13, and thereby keep the score more than doubled. The Temples were worse off in the second half, caging but two field goals, one for Eph Solomon and one for Plant.

Neither team looked very good on the foul line, the Christians making 5 out of 16, and the Temples 3 out of 9. Earl Bauman, Vago and Cowmeadow were the stars in the Christian lineup, with three buckets apiece. For the Temples the work of Eph Solomon, H. Levine and Sac. Levin stood out quite prominently.

The second game will be played next week and the VanFossan coached array hopes to atone for this severe setback. The Temples had a hard game Wednesday at Youngstown and this may have sapped their strength. They will rest up for the next game and it is safe to bet that the Christians will have a tough game on their hands. The Christians looked the part of real champions last night, and they are confident of taking two straight to win the church gonfalon.

The lineup—

Central Christians: Temple Israel 13
Vago, E. Bauman, V. Rogovin, E. Bauman, C. Sac. Levin, Paulini, G. Cowmeadow, H. Levine
Subs—Christians, Smith, A. Bauman; Temples, Saul, Davids, Field goals—Vago 3, McClure, Smith, E. Bauman 3, Paulini, Cowmeadow 3, Rogovin, E. Solomon 2, Davids, Plant, Pule—Christians—5 out of 16, Temples—3 out of 9. Referee—Horse Gillum. Umpire—Arnold Fitz Fraser.

Micky Solmen Wins By Knockout Route Over Jack Wilson

New Castle Welterweight Wins By Technical Kayoe As Referee Stops Go

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 29.—Mickey Solmen, flashy New Castle boxer with a terrific boom-boom punch in each glove, today had chalked up another victory in his march toward top-rank contendership.

Mickey stopped Jack Wilson in the sixth round here last night. Referee Joe Keally calling a halt after Wilson tottered helplessly about the ring under a two fisted barrage tossed out by the New Castle lad.

Solmen got off to a poor start, going to the canvas from a darting left hook in the second round. He took a nine count, brushed the cobwebs aside, and proceeded to lash out a scientific and complete beating to Wilson.

A crashing right hook sent Wilson to the floor in the fifth and another moment later toppled him in a neutral corner. He was saved by the bell but again was knocked down in the sixth. He arose, plainly distressed, an easy target for the rushing Solmen and Keally led Wilson to his corner.

Sharon Quintet Ready To Battle For State Title

Lower Merion Hopes To Give Great Sharon High Quintet Hard Tussle For Honors

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Two of the greatest schoolboy fives ever turned out by the Keystone state's basketball tutors—one from the east, the other from the western end of the state—clash here tonight for the Pennsylvania High School Championship. The game will be called at 8 p. m. in the University of Pennsylvania Palestra here with fully 8,000 fans present.

The teams, Sharon high, coached by "Pop" Dickerson, basketball sage of Western Pennsylvania, and Lower Merion High tutored by "Bill" Anderson, a young former star of Lafayette college's basketball team, will go into the game with the Ardmore five a slight favorite. Due to the contest being held here nearer the home of the Lower Merion five possible more of the fans are acquainted with the Ardmore's team's work and thus are inclined to favor it.

The Sharon team, however, is a veteran five and for three years have been in the finals of the state championship meets. The team this year has as co-captains Murphy and Laycock and will go into the contest tonight with 15 straight victories behind them. Coach Dickerson believes he has the greatest team ever turned out at Sharon and those basketball critics who watched the team go through its workout here yesterday agree it is a brilliant five.

On the other hand the Ardmore five too boasts of an impressive record having won 24 of its last starts. The team tonight also will be re-enforced by the return of its star guard Al Mandes who has been ill for a few days.

A crowd of more than 100 rooters are making the 500-mile trek from Sharon for the game while thousands of other high school fans from Lower Merion and nearby points plan to attend the battle tonight thus insuring the teams of a worthy audience.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of a series of illustrated training camp stories sizing up major league teams.

By Central Press

BILOXI, Miss., March 29.—The lusty, if not entertaining, battle between Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, and Goose Goslin recalcitrant outfielder, has been of such proportions that news of the duel has overshadowed news of the development of the other Senators in camp.

The Goslin business has not helped the Senators any in their efforts to round out a team which can take the field in April with enough confidence to put up a good struggle against the other clubs. In fact, it has been just another worry for Manager Walter Johnson, who has had his hands full attempting to build up a representative nine.

Johnson has a pretty good pitching staff, a fine looking infield, fair catching strength and not so bad an outfield if Goslin plays the ball he did several seasons ago. But the Senators do not appear improved to the extent visible in most of their rivals.

Bluege's Knee Better

One of the bright spots on the Senator horizon is the fact that Ossie Bluege, the third baseman, is reported fully recovered from a bad knee that hampered him in other seasons. Bluege is one of the real stars with the Senators and he is badly needed.

One of the most interesting battles for a position one the team has been the struggle between Buddy Myer and Jack Hayes for second. Myer is easily the better hitter, while Jack holds the edge in the field.

Joe Judge is a fixture at first base, while Joe Cronin showed enough last year and in training camp this season to assure him of the short position.

Sam Rice, the aging veteran; Goslin and Sammy West, George Loepp and Barnes comprise the outfield material.

Allegheny Team Selects Four Titan Stars On Team

Methodists Honor Westminster Players On All-Star Selection

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS NEW WILMINGTON, March 29.—Allegheny College, defeated "Ice" by Westminster in the basketball season which closes March 4, has a healthy respect for the Titan players as is shown by the all-star team selection made by the Allegheny players last week and announced in the Campus, student weekly.

A rather unwise method of choosing the all-opponent team was followed at Allegheny. Instead of naming each member of the squad cast votes for each position, the regulars on the Allegheny team picked only the men against whom they played during the season. The guards named the forwards whom they found most elusive. The forwards designated the guards who played most troublesome to them. The center chose the rival tip-off man who was the best.

First in the estimation of the Allegheny players were: Westminster Delahunty, forward; Westminster Crowell, center; Westminster White, guard; Westminster Rice, guard.

The world is becoming so democratic that the grand manner would be extinct except for traffic cops.

Outlook Not Bright

Of the pitchers on hand Fred Marberry, Irving Hadley and Ad Liska look the best, with Myles Thomas, Herb Pyle and other good looking young men ready to step in.

Muddy Ruel may once more this season be the first string catcher with Tate and Spencer also taking their share of the hurlers' slants.

Washington will have to show all-around improvement if the club is to move out of fifth position this year. The team was an all-around fifth place outfit last year, the Senators being fifth in standing, fifth in batting, fifth in fielding and Fred Marberry, leading hurler, being fifth among American league pitchers in the average earned run column.

The outlook for 1930 is none too rosy for the Senators. They look hardly the club to give serious battle to such powerful outfits as the Athletics, Indians and Yanks, not to mention the aggressive Browns and the newly ambitious White Sox and Tigers.

NEXT: Philadelphia Phillies.

Training Camps Briefs

(International News Service)

WINTER AVENUE, Fla., March 29.—The Phillies make their last bus ride of the spring training season today when they go to Lakeland to play the Columbus team of the American Association.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 29.—The Athletics meet the Boston Braves again today and tomorrow at Miami before breaking up their spring training camp. The champions lost to the Boston club yesterday by the score of 15-14.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 29.—The Cincinnati Reds, following a day of rest, were all primed and set for the Detroit Tigers whom they will meet here today in an exhibition game. Rain, yesterday, washed out the Reds' scheduled game with the Columbus Senators.

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 29.—The Chicago White Sox arrived here today for another engagement with the New York Giants following an eventful day at Waco.

The highlights of yesterday's experiences were revenge victory over the Waco club which ended 8 to 4 in favor of the Chicagoans; a bright shining sun; and the appearance of C. Arthur (The Great) Shires in uniform for the first time.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 29.—Another victory was in the Pittsburgh Pirates' bag today after a last inning rally against the Chicago Cubs yesterday which was started by George Grantham's second home run of the afternoon.

The Cubs, due principally to a last minute blowup, lost the game by 9 to 8 score. The Pirates hauled out with four runs in the last of the ninth inning.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 29.—Walter Johnson's Nationals came here today for a two day series with the Chicks. The Nats has no difficulty in disposing of the New York Giants second nine at Chattanooga yesterday to the tune of 10-3.

FORT WORTH, March 29.—If it does not rain, is not to cold or does not snow, the Giants will resume their fling with the Chicago White Sox today. In San Antonio yesterday cold cancelled a game between Keely Field soldiers and the McGrawmen.

MOBILE, March 29.—Van Pelt and Gomez. Somewhat strange names these but they may be more familiar for this pair of juvenile pitchers hurled the Yankees to victory yesterday over the Mobile Bears. Eleven to one was the score.

CLEARWATER, March 29.—It rained again and yesterday's Robins-Toronto game was a washout at Tarpon Springs but the two team clash today. Babe Herman may appear in the Robins lineup as he has arrived in camp and was reported ready to sign a $15,000 contract.

Congregationals To Have Meeting Sunday

The first Congregational ball team will meet Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Jack Steinbrink on Reynolds street, and that it is very important that the following men be present: Jack Steinbrink, Johnny Lewis, Tunny White, Russ Neyman, Norm Seamons, Dick Morgan, Floyd Nyman, Howard Ryan, Paul Hudson, George Shook, Dave Jett, Steve Bender, James Logan, Carl Gennock, Miller and Glenn Thomas.

Any one of the above not able to attend the meeting are asked to call Jack Steinbrink at 5391-J. Any other players desiring a tryout with this team are also asked to get in touch with him.

Offer King Chance To Battle Odell

Jackie King, Wampum lightweight has been offered a four round bout with Young Odell, Akron at Akron, April 12, when Joe Sekyra fights K. O. Christner. Emmett Rocco was scheduled originally to meet Christner but an injury incurred while boxing Al Friedman here forced him to withdraw from the bout. Jim Dyer may accept the bout for King.

J. R. Rick Motors Win Championship

Rick Motors Duckpin Team Wins Championship In Automobile League This Year

STUDEBAKERS AND BUICKS ARE GOOD

The J. R. Rick Motors duckpin topplers are in possession today of the handsome silver loving cup donated by Louis Guttman proprietor of the Castle Bowling Alleys, for the winners of the New Castle Automobile Duckpin League champions. The Rick's won their title and cup on Thursday night in a grand finish that left them just one game better than the Buicks. The season was a big success in every way, in its first year of existence.

It's a safe bet that the autos up at the Rick Motor company will get second place today as they proudly display the fine loving cup that was won in a field of very good bowlers. The cup probably adorns a fine pedestal by this time.

Joe Rick himself had a lot to do with the winning of the cup and title for his team. Joe in his younger days was quite a pin toppler and could rank with the best of them in this city, but he hasn't had much time for bowling owing to the press of big business, but this year he decided to go out and try for the championship in the Auto League and it would seem that his efforts have not been in vain. For a time it didn't look as if the Rick's would be up in front of the parade, with the Buicks and Studebakers crowding them close all year, and making life miserable for them, but the Rick's came through when the coming through meant coming through and so they are the "champs."

Was Close Race

It was a pretty race this Auto League this year with the three teams always bunched for the top rung. The "Studies" kind of fell by the wayside in the final few games.

You know this league championship wasn't in the bag until the final games rolled on Thursday night. The Rick's came through with three straight from the Nash Motors and turned around and took two out of three from the Studebakers to capture the flag.

The lineup of the Rick team for the majority of the games was: Joe Rick, Biggar, Hughes, Shinglebecker, Eakin and Bob Hamilton. Fraser was a newcomer to the team for the final few games and sure helped out. Nick Navarre also helped out with the bowling on a few nights this year.

The teams in the league were: Rick Motors, Studebaker, Buicks, Nash Motors, Chrysler, Hupmobile, Dodge and McCoy Motors.

Following is the season's standing of the teams:

| | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|-----------------------|-----|------|------|
| J. R. Rick Motor..... | 62 | 22 | .738 |
| Buicks..... | 61 | 23 | .726 |
| Studebaker..... | 59 | 25 | .702 |
| Chrysler..... | 42 | 42 | .500 |
| Hupmobile..... | 36 | 48 | .429 |
| McCoy Motor..... | 33 | 51 | .394 |
| Nash..... | 27 | 57 | .321 |
| Dodge..... | 17 | 67 | .202 |

Men's Club Plans For Illumination

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—Members of the Men's club enjoyed a monthly meeting Friday night in the Slippery Rock church and elected the old officers to serve another term of office as follows: President, J. M. Houk; vice president, Charles Wilson and treasurer, Charles Houk.

The men decided to redecorate the church in the matter of the lighting fixtures. There was a good attendance at the meeting, and after the discussion of other spring plans for spring activities, the club adjourned until next month.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS
Burton J. Bell returned this afternoon to spend the week end at his home on Glen avenue.

Night School To Be Featured In Schools Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—The first of the annual night school sessions will take place Monday evening in the local schools. Night class will be held in the Hartman, Circle and Ewing Park schools. There will be no afternoon sessions in those buildings on that day. Parents are urged to attend the night sessions.

These sessions started about four years ago, and the attendance has been increasing in number each year. Sessions will be conducted in the North Side and West End schools on April 7 and Central and Lincoln school on April 14. Last year a total of 3,307 adults visited the various buildings. These night school classes permit the parents to observe at close range the activities of their children in the local schools. School officials feel that the effort expended on these sessions is well worth the cost, as it establishes a closer relationship between the home and the school.

Orange Ladies Have Visitors Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Orange Ladies lodge which took place Friday evening in the Schweiger building, special guests present were: Mrs. M. Wehl, district deputy from New Castle; Mrs. Marian Hettenbaugh, Mrs. Henrietta Davis and others, all of New Castle. Mrs. Wehl gave a short talk on Lodge work, and installed a few officers, who were not installed at the regular installation meeting which took place the first of the month.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a bunco party was enjoyed, after which Mrs. Ida Duncan and her committee served delicious refreshments.

FUNERAL SERVICES
ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., March 29.—Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes J. Richards of Hazel Avenue, were held from the Trinity Lutheran church this afternoon. The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Davis and was largely attended.

Mrs. Richards' death occurred very suddenly at her home Thursday morning. Interment was made in Locust Grove cemetery.

AT PITTSBURGH
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hollerman and daughter Maxine were week end visitors in Pittsburgh.

Koppel Seeking Better Service

Council Considering Number Of Problems — Other News
Of Community

(Special To The News)
KOPPEL, Pa., March 29.—The council of the Borough of Koppel at their last meeting brought before the councilmen three points of interest to the community.

These three topics were that the Koppel Water company was not supplying the town with the best service that is within its power and a committee has been appointed to see that something is done consisting of Charles Nardone, chairman, S. Crangi and Max Ritter. Another which was brought up for discussion was complaint of the cost of electricity. Authorities are being interviewed at present. The other object of discussion was the telephone company and it will be discussed more thoroughly at the next council meeting.

KOPPEL NOTES
The Ladies Aid Society of the Koppel M. E. Church met at the home of Mrs. John Linzey for their regular meeting. Mrs. Desie Robert and Mrs. Evelyn Linzey were enrolled as new members of the society.

William Lipin of Pittsburgh who was injured in an auto accident a week ago is reported as recovering. After visiting at the home of Miss Mary Wittmer, he met with the accident just as he had departed for his home. He was believed to be in serious condition as his right lung was crushed and he had other minor injuries. The doctors feared pneumonia but the ninth day has been successfully passed and he is somewhat better. He is a patient in the Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls.

The play cast, which is rehearsing for the play "Safety First," met at the home of their director, Mrs. W. S. Blythe of Koppel. The cast has a regular practice on Monday and Thursday evenings and intend to give the play the latter part of April. It has as its members, men of the basketball team of Wampum and members of the Koppel church.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brandt of Hoydale announced the arrival of a son on Wednesday, March 26.

W.C.T.U. Pageant Is In Rehearsal

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—The big pageant which is being sponsored by the local and North Side W. C. T. U. is well under way and gives fine promises of being one of the outstanding events of the season.

It is a combination of historic, colonial and present day episodes, romantic, thrilling, pathetic, humorous and educational. The director and instructor, Miss Currie, of Geneva college, met a representative committee at the home of Mrs. Robert Grandey on Wayne avenue recently and selected as the dates for the presentation, April 28 and 29. Many of the character roles were assigned and arrangements made for several groups, which go to make up part of the numerous cast. Miss Currie will confer with the committee again on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grandey at 2 p. m.

These sessions started about four years ago, and the attendance has been increasing in number each year. Sessions will be conducted in the North Side and West End schools on April 7 and Central and Lincoln school on April 14. Last year a total of 3,307 adults visited the various buildings. These night school classes permit the parents to observe at close range the activities of their children in the local schools. School officials feel that the effort expended on these sessions is well worth the cost, as it establishes a closer relationship between the home and the school.

Kiwanis Club To Observe Fools Night

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—There will be much monkey business and foolishness at the dinner-meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday evening in the dining room of the Trinity Lutheran church.

To celebrate April Fool's day, F. L. Schweitzer will be Master Foolster, and will be assisted by a gang of arch fiends who plan to spare no one in the fun of the evening. Members are requested to leave all valuables with the secretary, before entering into the program.

Funeral Services
For Charles Burns

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—Funeral services for Charles Burns, 7 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burns of the Wurtemburg road, who passed away Thursday morning, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home.

Lovely floral offerings and a number of friends alleviated in a measure, the grief of the bereaved parents. Rev. C. G. Huffer officiated, and the burial was made in Locust Grove cemetery.

CONCLUDES VISIT
ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—George Bander of Baltimore, concluded a pleasant visit with his grandmother Mrs. White of this city, and returned to his home today.

MORAVIA STOP

SERVICE SUNDAY
The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of Moravia Stop will enjoy the presence of the Evangelistic party (now holding meetings at the Alliance Missionary Mission on Bell Avenue, Ellwood City) at the morning service at 11 a. m. The party consists of Mrs. E. C. Anderson, lady Evangelist, Miss Sadie Lewis and Miss Mildred George. Mr. Anderson will preach the morning message, and the gospel singers rendering vocal selections.

Alfred Bunny who is in charge of the work at North Sewickley, will give his life's story, as to his Salvation, at the evening service 8 p. m. He also is expected to give a talk at the regular Young People's Meeting beginning at 7 p. m.

SURPRISE PARTY
A number of friends from Moravia and vicinity went to Enon Valley one evening this week and gave a surprise party in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Elizabeth Young. The party included Mrs. Rachel McClintock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, sons Clyde and Charles and daughter Goldie and Mattie. Also present were Walter Sonntag all of Moravia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, sons Malon, Wayne and Eugene of Slippery Rock; Elton McClintock, Alice Locke of Ellwood City. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young and children Mary Martha and Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Young, daughter Mildred, sons Paul and Clem all of Enon Valley. Everett Panner of New Castle, Harold and Mildred McClintock of Koppel. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the honored guest and a delicious lunch was served by the daughters-in-law.

P. T. A. MEETING
The Moravia P. T. A. held their regular meeting on Thursday evening. Even though the weather was unpleasant a good crowd was present and a good program was rendered. The program follows:

Devotional
Singing, "America, the Beautiful"
Reading, Mrs. Jas. Houk—Philosophy and Fairy

Talk, Miss Sara Rennie—Relation of the School Library and the Grades
Piano solo, Mr. Belcher
The Cost of a Teacher's Education—Francis Reno
Address by Mrs. Albert Brenner

MORAVIA STOP NOTES
Lola Shaffer spent the past week end with Miss Pearl Watt of Mars, Pa.

Mrs. Henry Smith of Dubois, Pa., arrived Thursday to spend a few days with her daughter Mrs. Frank Houk.

Friends of Wm. Houk who was so seriously injured in an automobile accident on Brown Hill Wednesday evening, will be glad to know that while his injuries are very painful, he is not as badly hurt as was thought at first.

We can't expect perfect officials, but surely it is possible to find some who won't need "fixing" so often.

Guest Pastors To Aid In First Week Of Singing Gospel

Three Weeks Of Gospel Meetings Open Tomorrow Night In The Christian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—The first of a series of three weeks gospel meetings take place Sunday in the First Christian church of this city. The singing Evangelist Elbert Clay Cassidy will conduct the musical part of the Revival.

The first week of the gospel will be featured with different pastors each evening as follows: Sunday evening the church pastor, Rev. C. G. Huffer; Monday evening Rev. D. P. Shaffer of Sebring, O.; Tuesday, Rev. W. W. Sniff of New Castle; Wednesday Rev. J. Glen Carpenter of Beaver; Thursday, Rev. L. D. Riddell of Butler; and Friday Rev. Graham Keevil of Salineville, O. There will be no services on Saturday nights. The services will open promptly on other nights at 7:45 p. m.

Y.P.C.U. Has Nice
Radio Social In Wurtemburg Church

ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—Members of the Y. P. C. U. of the United Presbyterian church of Wurtemburg showed their ingenuity by putting on a social that was different Friday evening in the social rooms of the church. The entertainment was in the form of television radio broadcasting, with one of the features being one-act play entitled, "A Gypsy's Romance." The character parts were capably taken by Miss Margaret Parker, Miss Irene Falen, Miss Mazie Falen and Earl Timblin. There were readings by Miss Mildred Rutter and Miss Fay Gallagher; a duet and pantomime with the Misses Ruth and Jewel Badger, Frances McElwain and Ada Graham taking part. A large crowd attended the social and enjoyed refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

SOCIAL WELL ATTENDED
ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., March 29.—The Y. P. C. U. social held at the Wurtemburg U. P. church last evening was well attended. An imitated radio program with television was well rendered. Musical numbers by Orville Harper and Francis Kirk received much applause as did the rendition of a one act play entitled, "A Gypsy's Romance."

The concluding feature of this event was given by Mr. Thos. H. Patterson of Ellwood City, whose clever mimicry of certain characters and animals convulsed the audience with mirth and was encored again and again.

MODERN BRIDGE CLUB
ELLWOOD CITY, March 29.—Members of the Modern Bridge club are scheduled to meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Northrop of this city.

FROM TEE TO GREEN

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Sports Writer

We know Jones by his back-swing and his finish. His form between these two points is history. If one could bet that straight arm as shown by Jones he would eliminate many of the little worrying details of the game.

If you should have the occasion, be sure to see Jones in action—note how the left arm is paralleled with the club at the top of the swing and also you will find the same condition at the finish of the stroke.

That easy follow through, so typical of Jones, is also reflected in his steps lightly on his toe and rolls over with ease on the right foot, taking all the weight as in (D). There is no evidence of forced action here.

In the smaller illustration we see how Jones pulls the right shoulder back to his head and the left arm will parallel itself with the shaft of the club before he starts the down swing.

Merry Circle Meets Monday

Meeting Changed From Tuesday To Monday; Square Circle Lose To Elm Street

On Monday night at the International Institute for Foreign Women's home on Pennsylvania avenue the Merry Circle club under the supervision of Miss W. J. N. Sroczynska will hold its meeting instead of Tuesday night. All members are asked to take notice of the change in date of the meeting.

On Thursday night the Polish Mothers club held a meeting at the Institute home. A Dinty Moore dinner composed of corn, beef, and cabbage, was served to the members who enjoyed the dinner. Miss W. J. N. Sroczynska is also the supervisor of this organization.

The newly organized Square Circle club held its meeting at the Y. W. C. on Friday night. Following the meeting the basketball team played the girls team of the Elm Street Girl Reserves. The Elm Street team posed out the institute home girls 14-13 in a fast and exciting game.

City Councilmen Watch Situation

Want Rail Lines To Take Action On Thoroughfares To Be Improved

City council is watchfully waiting for the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler & New Castle railway to state its position relative to the improvement of tracks in Butler avenue, to be repaved by the city at the expense of the state. The company today will receive a notice from the city solicitor's department notifying the officials of the proposed job. The city wants the company to put their track and equipment in good condition.

The council is also waiting action in which the Penn-Ohio railway is concerned as the company had been asked to remove rails in Grant street, one of the thoroughfares to be repaved. Recently Solicitor White filed a bill in equity court against the company. The bill asks that the company be forced to restore the street to the condition it was when the tracks were laid.

SENDING OUT NOTICES

City Solicitor White is notifying Lutton street property owners who have failed to pay liens to have them renewed immediately.

NEW YORK STOCKS Railroad Stocks Lead Stock Market Advance

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 29.—The railroad stocks and the blue-chip industrial were the leaders this morning in another wide and sweeping advance in prices on the big board. U. S. Steel, American Can, American Tel. and Tel. and Westinghouse were the outstanding leaders of the blue-chip industrial, all reaching new high price levels, as the rise in the rails "confirmed" the genuineness of the bull movement.

Definite and specific improvement in important departments of American industry, as outlined in the week-end reviews, stimulated a broad demand for the stocks which have been moving ahead brilliantly in recent weeks.

U. S. Steel set up a new high record at 194. Westinghouse at 190 1/2, up 4; General Electric at 85 1/2, up 2; American Tel. and Tel. at 26 1/2, up 4 and American Can at 152 1/2, up 1 1/2.

New York Central retained its position of leadership of the dividend-paying rails and pushed along to 191 1/2, up 2. Western Maryland, Katy, Missouri Pacific and stocks of other roads with merger possibilities were in demand from sources supposedly representing the powerful transportation interests. A 29 per cent decline in the February net income of the first 72 roads to report to the commerce commission did not deter investors in the rail stocks from picking up their favorite shares.

Chicago Great Western preferred jumped 8 points to 50 1/4, the common advancing 3 to 18 1/4.

Another buying wave swamped the facilities of the exchange near the close of the short session, and the ticker fell behind 32 minutes. Except for a small number of the rails and specialties, the best buying was concentrated on the blue-chip favorites of last year's bull market.

General Electric pushed ahead brilliantly at 85 1/2, equal to 344 for the old stock, which crashed to 168 in the November break.

United States Steel sold in good volume above 193 and Westinghouse above 190. With estimated sales at 2,600,000 shares, trading in the big board broke another record today, that of selling volume for a half session. Copper, Oil and Motor stocks were inactive and steady.

Prepare Ordinance On False Alarms

Reeves To Present Measure To Council Authorizing Reward To Informants

In order to curb the widespread practice of sending in false fire alarms, which seems to have become a sport among young men of the city, Councilman C. H. Reeves has prepared an ordinance which will be submitted to council Monday, authorizing a reward for information leading to the apprehension of persons sending in false alarms.

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn and members of council are determined to break up the practice, and those responsible will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

During the past week, two different groups of boys have been caught after turning in false alarms and have been given hearings before the Mayor.

Apparently those responsible do not realize the seriousness of the offense, as the lives of the firemen are endangered every time they take a piece of apparatus out in answer to an alarm, and in many instances serious accidents have occurred.

Coal Operators Of Four States In Rates Battle

Efforts Of Pennsylvania And Ohio Soft Coal Operators
Face Opposition

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 29.—Battle lines were drawn today by bituminous coal operators in West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky to combat the efforts of Pennsylvania and Ohio operators to bring about a change in freight rates on Lake Cargo coal.

At a secret conclave here these operators organized a "property owners committee," from which within the next ten days will be selected a central committee composed of operators from the regional district involved, which will conduct the fight.

Plan To Intervene
The first step this central committee will take will be to file a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission to intervene in the complaint of Pennsylvania and Ohio operators charging that present freight rates on lake cargo coal give the Southern operators an unfair advantage in this highly profitable trade.

A surprise move may be made by the railroads handling lake cargo coal. They are expected to take the position that the commission having finally adjudicated the lake cargo case, there is no justification for reopening it.

Pennsylvania and Ohio operators claim that rates charged them on lake cargo coal are prejudicial, when compared with rates charged on shipments from the southern fields. Their complaint is the first step toward reopening a case which has been the cause of hotly contested decisions, court actions, counter-actions and temporary compromises.

Strong Feeling Exists
Indicative of the strong feeling which exists in the case, the rates in themselves are given little more than passing notice, emphasis being laid upon the differential between rates charged on coal moving from northern fields as against shipments moving from southern fields.

The northern fields at one time dominated the lake cargo business, which is of enormous proportions, but within recent years southern operators have made huge gains in the business.

At the present time the freight rate from southern fields is $1.81 per ton, and the rate from northern fields $1.46, giving the latter a differential of 35 cents per ton.

This differential, northern operators claim, is too low to compete against southern mines, which are generally non-union, whereas Pennsylvania and Ohio mines are highly unionized.

Floating Flask Is Rummies' Latest

Beach Combers On Lake Erie Shores Haul In 'Canned' Whisky, Canada's Gift

SANDUSKY, Ohio, March 29.—A tamper-proof, non-breakable and floating flask, latest thing from Canada, has roused the enthusiasm of residents along Lake Erie's shores as nothing else has in recent years.

The good people of Lakeside, famous summer place owned and managed by the Methodist Episcopal church, and those of Kelleys Island and Put-in-Bay have discovered the latest in "floating bars."

Beachcombers are daily gathering in dozens of floating containers, loaded with the best of the Canadian liquor market has to offer the thirsty United States.

Just Like Sardine Cans.
The containers, examination shows, are airtight cans with little keys attached. The finder can easily open it and is usually rewarded with a pint or a quart of whisky.

First illusions that rum runners were donating their goods to parched Ohioans was dispelled late yesterday, when coast guards seized three motor boats and twenty cases of whisky west of Port Clinton, near Tossaint.

Each bottle was contained in an airtight can, providing the practical theory that in event of capture, the "rummie" could toss his cargo overboard and trust the waves to carry it to shore, where his confederates might salvage it.

Vacuum Does It.
The new container resembles an oversized sardine can. It opens in much the same manner. The bottle is separated from the sides of can by a vacuum.

Kerwick J. Ryan, acting deputy collector of customs, brought from Marblehead this afternoon the boats and cargo seized yesterday.

The cans were oval in shape, something different for the cans picked up among the islands are square. Each can bears the imprint: "Proper protection. This package insures the dependability of its contents."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Play Is Repeated In Ward Church

Second Performance Of Play Is Given In Madison Avenue
Church

A second performance of the play, "June Time," was given Friday evening in the Madison Avenue Christian church. The auditorium was filled and the audience enjoyed the program. The seven characters in the play took their parts in a creditable manner as they had the previous evening. The play was a comedy in three acts. Miss Betty Glover directed the play.

The play was given by members of the Loyal Worker's class of the church. The Sabbath school orchestra played selections before the performance and between acts. After the performance on Friday evening members of the cast of the play had a social time and lunch in the church dining room. Proceeds realized from the sale of tickets for the play will be used by the class.

Willard Grange Plans Program

Members of Willard grange are planning a special gardening program for their next meeting, which will be on Tuesday evening, April 8. Following roll call there will be talks by Norman Hunt and Harry White. Mr. Hunt will speak on the subject "Two Good Reasons Why I Like My Garden."

Mr. White will speak on "The Farm Garden, is it an Asset or a Liability." Other features of the program will be recitations by Wendell Dean and Margaret Byrd Shaw. Ashley Stevenson will play a piano solo and Mae Dean will read a paper on the subject "What can a farmer's wife raise in her garden that can be sold at a profit?" A garden contest will also be a feature of the meeting.

PRE-EASTER CLASS
The third of the pre-Easter classes was conducted Friday afternoon in the Madison Avenue Christian church. Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the church, conducting these special classes is having fine attendances. The series of classes are now half over. There being six classes in the series. The study of these pre-Easter classes is of the Christ. The class is for children and meets each Friday after school.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PLAY
The Senior Epworth League of the Mahoning M. E. church had a party Friday evening in the church basement. Twenty young people were present. The evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and singing. At a late hour refreshments were served. Miss Mildred Butts was in charge of the arrangements for the party. An enjoyable time was had by all present.

Henry Hamilton is president of the society. The society members plan to resume having a party each month.

JOASH CAMPAIGN
The Joash campaign in the Mahoning M. E. church is nearing the close. This campaign in connection with the Joash chest has been conducted in the church about three months. The campaign will end on Easter Sunday. Each Sunday a member of the congregation presents the cause of the campaign at the church services.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor, Sabbath school at 9:45 A. M., in charge of the superintendent, G. H. Scheide-mante. During the Sabbath school hour the report of the nominating committee will be heard and the annual election of officers will take place.

Morning church service at 11 o'clock. Subject of sermon, "Paul's First Recorded Sermon." 2:30 Junior Christian Endeavor. Evening service at 7:45. Theme, "The Abiding Presence."

Sunday, which is the last Sunday of March, marks the ending of the present church year.

METHODIST CHURCH

Psychologist To Speak At Rotary

Guy M. Bingham, Coming
From National Capital
For Addresses
Here

JUVENILE RESEARCH WORK IS HIS STUDY

Guy Morse Bingham, of Washington, D. C., nationally known lecturer and psychologist will come to the city on Monday under the auspices of the New Castle Rotary club for an appearance before the service men and students of the senior high school.

At 10 o'clock he will make an address at the senior high school on the subject "You Will Be What You Want To Be," after which he will appear before the students at which time he will speak on "Choosing A Vocation." His Rotary subject at noon will be "The Challenge of Youth."

Dr. Bingham, who for many years was a superintendent of schools, has spoken to more than 100,000 high school and college students and is very conversant with their problems. While officiating as superintendent he gave individual attention to the abnormal and delinquent child, and for some time has taken special work in criminology and psychology at Harvard university.

Considerable time was spent in the study of prisons and reform schools, and for several years he carried on research work in the juvenile courts of Judge Ben B. Lindsay, Judge Bartleme of Chicago and others. He is considered an authority on social and moral as well as business and problems of the day.

Name Memorial Day Committee

Grove City Legion Post Makes Preparations To Observe Occasion

GROVE CITY, March 29.—Major Fred McCoy was appointed chairman of the American Legion Memorial Day committee at a meeting of the post. Major McCoy will take complete charge of the activities for that day. Various plans were discussed during this meeting for the activities of the day.

Any organization wishing to participate in the day's program is asked to get in touch immediately with the chairman. A special feature this year will be the unveiling of a French "75" field gun, secured through the efforts of the General Hugh Mercer chapter of the D. A. R. A special speaker for the day has not yet been announced.

It was decided that the Legion post would arrange for the construction of an awning over the speakers' table to afford protection from the sun or rain. It was further decided at this meeting that the Legion bugle and drum corps would parade the business section of town during the two nights of the spring style show that the local merchants are planning for April 2 and 3.

STREET IS CLOSED
The west end of Woodland avenue and the north end of Harvard street have been closed to traffic to give the contractors working on the new Chestnut street viaduct a chance to complete the excavation on the east side of Wolf creek. The work on this new bridge is progressing rapidly and according to an announcement made by the superintendent it is expected that the bridge will be ready for use about two months sooner than was anticipated.

The bridge will be 419 feet long with a 20-foot roadway and two six-foot sidewalks. Eighteen hundred cubic yards of cement and approximately 85 tons of re-enforcing steel have been used in the construction. The cost of this great improvement amounts to $87,000, and with the exception of the cost of the approaches, the entire expense is being borne by the county.

PLAN BIG PROGRAM
Robert Flint, chairman of the special committee of the Commerce club for the holding of the farmers' banquet here on the night of April 9, states that he is extremely pleased with the manner that the members of the local club are supporting this proposition. It was through Mr. Flint that the local committee was able to secure Mr. Schilling of the federal farm board as the speaker for this event. Mr. Flint states that with a very few exceptions the affair is going over big and he is very grateful for this event.

Fellow Rotarian:

We will have a speaker of national reputation Monday, one recommended by Dr. Parks Cadman. He is Dr. Morse Bingham, of Washington, D. C., psychologist, criminologist, who will speak on "The Making of the Fabric or The Challenge of Youth."

Dr. Bingham comes highly recommended and speaks with a wealth of experience behind him.

Dr. Blackwood attended Los Angeles rotary. Herman Hess met with the McKeesport Rotarians. Sam Moore was present at the St. Petersburg Rotary meeting.

The Post Convention tour has been changed as follows: Leave Pittsburgh 10:30 a. m. Sunday, June 22nd.—In Chicago at convention June 23, 24, 25, and 27th. Leave Chicago June 27th about 1:30 p. m. for Yellowstone park, arriving back in Pittsburgh Sunday, July 6th. Those wishing to go on the District Special to Chicago and return immediately after the convention may do so for about $33. The complete post convention trip will cost about $220.00 exclusive of your stay in Chicago.

Psychologist To Speak At Rotary

Guy M. Bingham, Coming
From National Capital
For Addresses
Here

Guy Morse Bingham, of Washington, D. C., nationally known lecturer and psychologist will come to the city on Monday under the auspices of the New Castle Rotary club for an appearance before the service men and students of the senior high school.

At 10 o'clock he will make an address at the senior high school on the subject "You Will Be What You Want To Be," after which he will appear before the students at which time he will speak on "Choosing A Vocation." His Rotary subject at noon will be "The Challenge of Youth."

Dr. Bingham, who for many years was a superintendent of schools, has spoken to more than 100,000 high school and college students and is very conversant with their problems. While officiating as superintendent he gave individual attention to the abnormal and delinquent child, and for some time has taken special work in criminology and psychology at Harvard university.

Considerable time was spent in the study of prisons and reform schools, and for several years he carried on research work in the juvenile courts of Judge Ben B. Lindsay, Judge Bartleme of Chicago and others. He is considered an authority on social and moral as well as business and problems of the day.

Fewer Charity Appeals When Work Is Supplied

Such Is Report Brought Back From Florida By Local Visitors

Applicants for charity decrease quite rapidly when the application is met with a chance to work for the funds, according to some of the local residents who have just returned from the south. Following is an item from a Jacksonville paper, showing how the application had dropped down, and a plan whereby the unemployment situation was being met in that city.

There are not as many unemployed men in Jacksonville as recent reports have indicated, according to those in close touch with the situation, who based their opinion on the results of the first day's functioning of agencies certifying workmen to the city for employment under an emergency appropriation of $5,000.

Thomas Devine, secretary of the Community Chest, the agency that is serving as the clearing house for those seeking work under the arrangements made following action of the city commission and city council in setting aside the fund, stated yesterday that he had sent only forty-five men to the various departments.

He also stated that he had only about 100 additional applications on file.

Those put to work yesterday, on the basis of $1 a day for unmarried men, and $1.50 for married men living with their wives, and 25 cents additional for each child, averaged $2.37½ a day in wages, he stated last night.

The highest wage drawn by any one was $4.25, on the basis of eleven children. Among those given work was one man who formerly was sales manager of a large corporation at a salary of $10,000 a year. He has two children, and is receiving $2 daily.

All applicants for work under the arrangement are being carefully investigated, to guard against floaters being put to work, and if they meet requirements they are certified to the Community Chest, which in turn passes them on to the city departments having work available for the men.

Investigate Death Of Aliquippa Man

(International News Service)
ALIQUIPPA, Pa., March 29.—Authorities today were investigating the death of William Schmandrak, 43, of Aliquippa, whose body was found on a highway near here last night.

Death was caused by a bullet wound in the head, an autopsy showed. A pistol with one cartridge missing was found near the body.

Her husband had been in ill health, Mrs. Mildred Schmandrak told police.

There is always hope for the man who is capable of being ashamed.

Charles H. Wright Will Address Men's Class At Third U. P.

Charles H. Wright, of Arizona, sheriff of Maricopa county, who has been in New Castle attending the Schroeder-Dague trials, will address the Men's class of the Third United Presbyterian church at their regular Sunday School hour Sunday.

Mr. Wright has been heard several times during his sojourn in the city and the men of the Third church are looking forward to having the pleasure of hearing him.

Bass And Shea Fight Is Draw

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Mar. 29.—Benny Bass, Philadelphia's midwest with the steel fists in still listed as the junior lightweight champion of the world today.

But if St. Louis boxing fans had anything to do with it there would be two junior lightweight crowns and Eddie Shea of Chicago would wear the other one.

The two little fighters with the big punches fought a slam-bang ten round draw here in the new arena last night before some 17,000 fans.

None Can Escape a Credit Rating

Not that we are desirous of being without a credit rating. For like reputation of any sort, its lack is dangerous. But, wanted or not, your rating is known the country over. If you have never bought anything, you are not known and can get no credit. If you have bought, actual records on file in the national bureau tell business men of your reliability. It's worth a lot—more than the slight effort of paying promptly by the tenth of the month.
